A Street Plant Gutted By Blaze

A San Rafael ladder company was wrecked today by a pre-dawn blaze which apparently got a disastrous jump on firemen.

Damage to the Himco Manufacturing Co. at 734 A Street was estimated at between $500,000 and $1 million. No injuries were reported.

Fire Chief Vance Trivett said the two-story, concrete building was an inferno upon arrival of his men about 4:45 a.m., indicating the fire had started much earlier. No explosions were reported before the blaze.

San Rafael Patrolman Roger Downward said he smelled smoke in the vicinity at 3:30 a.m., but found no fire. A passerby was reported by firemen to have noticed smoke curling out of the building at 4 a.m., but did not report it.

Firemen finally were notified about 4:40 a.m. when Patrolman Walter Kosta saw smoke coming out of both floors.

Trivett said cause of the blaze was unknown. He discounted, until an investigation, reports that a burglar may have touched off the fire.

The chief quoted police as saying a second-floor window, found open when firemen arrived, was shut earlier.

"I've heard burglars and bombs as the cause of the fire, but this is just talk right now," Trivett said.

Owner Henry Hopfeld of San Anselmo said he worked late at the shop leaving everything in

Antiriot Clause Put In Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate adopted an antiriot provision to its compromise civil rights bill today after overriding a ruling by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey that it could not be considered. The vote was 82 to 13.

Civil rights advocates, fearful of antagonizing colleagues who could jump either way on the compromise package, did not offer a determined effort to defeat the antiriot amendment.

The amendment would make it a federal crime to cross state lines to incite, organize, promote, encourage or participate in, a riot. It would carry a penalty of five years in prison or a $10,000 fine.

As presiding officer, Humphrey ruled reluctantly that the antiriot amendment was not germane and could not be considered. But the Senate itself has the final say on all rulings and on motion by Sen. Spessard Holland, D-Fla., the Senate gave unanimous consent to allow a vote.

After three failures, the Senate for only the eighth time in U.S. history yesterday voted 65 to 32 to invoke cloture, thus limiting debate and clearing the way for voting on the open housing portion of the rights measure.

The Southern block in the Senate, in deep opposition to open housing, will have another opportunity to debate the rights bill as a whole, without limit and another cloture vote could become necessary to pass the bill and send it to the House.

The compromise civil rights supporters hope to keep intact includes a three-stage "open housing" provision which by Jan. 1, 1970, would cover 44.6 million units or 68 per cent of the nation's housing.

Marin Bills Would Kill Span Board

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SACRAMENTO — Abolition of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District was proposed today in two bills introduced in the legislature by Assemblyman William T. Bagley and Sen. John F. McCarthy, San Rafael Republicans.

The bridge board "has parted company with the public's patience, and with mine," Bagley declared in an angry blast at the board's failure Thursday to endorse the bill that would have added three directors, two from Marin and one from San Francisco. That bill was introduced by John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, who also introduced legislation to abolish the bridge district.

The present bridge board is inherently "unresponsive to the public, and has a tendency to defer to the more northerly counties who think they own the bridge," Bagley charged.

The skeleton bills by the two legislators would revive McCarthy's 1961 proposals to create a Golden Gate authority, a regional transportation agency, to take over all Bay Area bridges, airports and seaports. The bill passed the Assembly then by a two-to-one margin, but was killed in the Senate.

The authority would be made up of representatives of state, county and city government," and would eliminate the provincialism which exists in some Bay Area transportation agencies today," Bagley said.

Bagley also announced he was preparing a second bill to create a San Francisco-Marin transit district.

This bill also would abolish the bridge district, and allow the new district to use bridge district revenues for all forms of transit, Bagley explained.

The new district would be managed by a nine-member board, two from Marin and seven from San Francisco. The number of directors would be the same as the two counties now have on the bridge board, but the new directors would be chosen by the county supervisors from among themselves. Directors of the

GOOD NEIGHBORS

Abstinence Major Synanon Life Key

By MARY LEYDECKER
(Second of two articles)

Are Corte Madera residents worrying about a bunch of "dope fiends and drunks" moving into the Uplands Apartments, when in reality, their new neighbors will probably be the most Puritanical bunch in town?

Although Synanon Foundation has not yet completed negotiations for the 130-unit apartment complex on Paradise Drive, its officials feel confident the purchase will be made. "We are good buyers," says Daniel L. Garrett, legal representative.

The thesis that Synanon residents are also good neighbors has been put forth by its founder, Charles E. Dederich, now a resident of Marin County at the Synanon Marshall facility.

"Synanon is the only community in the country where drugs are absolutely not present," Dederich states flatly. (In answer to an interviewer's question that possibly drugs are not found in convents, Dederich replied that Synanon has had several nuns in residence who became addicts while living in convents.)

Synanon residents not only do not use drugs, as many of them readily admit they did in former lives, they do not use alcohol and they frown on such drugs as sleeping pills and tranquilizers except for relief of pain.

"Synanon life style" is really a set of moral values, Dederich says. "The standard batch of virtues such as integrity, honesty and facing responsibility are professed by our people," he added.

"The thesis that freedom is in direct proportion to an adult's facing of responsibility is something we take very seriously," Dederich stated.

"What else constitutes the Synanon way of life?"

"We are facing up to the fact of integration, for one thing," said Dederich, whose wife Betty is a Negro. "Western society can no longer live by setting

New Policy For Blocking Of Synanon

The Town Council of Corte Madera last night passed an emergency ordinance which makes doubly certain that Synanon Foundation must request a use permit if it moves into Corte Madera. (See also Corte Madera Council stories, page 19.)

The action was in the form of a 90-day interim ordinance. It duplicates a portion of the present zoning ordinance, but spells out in more detail the restrictions against use of any building in residential areas for purposes including the treatment or rehabilitation of narcotic addicts unless a use permit is applied for and granted.

The unanimous passage followed a five-minute closed session by the council to discuss

"This is one place where Barry and I are in disagreement," Reagan told a news conference. He added "we have to follow a different path. The stakes are too big."

Councilmen Urge Peace, Set Ballot For Mill Valley

By ALAN JONES

To the accompaniment of cheering and applause from an audience upwards of 200, the Mill Valley City Council last night unanimously passed a resolution calling on President Johnson to seek a policy of peace in Vietnam and start an "orderly withdrawal" of U.S. troops from our "present untenable position." (Another Mill Valley council story, page 8.)

The council then unanimously ordered the same resolution put on the ballot for the April 9 city election so Mill Valley voters can take a stand on the war.

The second action answered critics of the council resolution who contended the council has no authority to speak for the citizens on foreign policy matters.

The resolution said members of the city council "are deeply concerned with our nation's military involvement in Vietnam," and urges the president "to immediately formulate a policy of peace in Vietnam and an orderly withdrawal from the present untenable position of the United States," and adds "we do not believe there can ever be a military solution in Vietnam but that there must be a political solution implemented by the president and the elected representatives of the United States."

20 SPEAKERS

Twenty members of the standing-room audience spoke, 12 for the resolution and eight against, with loudl applause following each speech. The audience appeared to weigh about four to one in favor of the resolution.

Retired Marine Col. Frank J. Shaw, of Mill Valley, charged that the resolution was "nothing less than giving aid and comfort to the enemy . . . treason," and rapped today's "draft dodgers and weak-kneed scissorbills." The council "cannot speak for me — not on an issue like this," he said.

Another ex-Marine, William F. Ramsey Jr., of Mill Valley, applauded the council for "showing the guts to get up and do something about this war that has been lost." The war was lost nearly 20 years ago, he said, "a long time before the first of 20,000 GIs was killed over there."

'THROW IT'

"That resolution — you can throw it in the wastebasket," said William A. Dukes. "You don't represent me in Washington."

Councilman Rodric L. Robinson, who introduced the resolution two weeks ago, said then that he felt it was time responsible groups began taking a stand on the war. "Peace has become a dirty word" because

Reds Invade City, Shell 'Safest' Base

SAIGON (AP) — Three hundred Viet Cong invaded a provincial capital at the southern end of Vietnam today and seized the hospital, but government troops drove them out of the city of Quan Long, after a day-long fight. Military spokesmen said 195 of the Communists were slain.

The Communists also shelled a dozen provincial capitals, six district towns, and 14 military bases and camps including the U.S. base at Cam Ranh Bay, once considered the safest spot in South Vietnam. It was the second straight day of widespread shelling.

Although runways were pitted, Cam Ranh Bay was not severely damaged and flights were not delayed. This is the base President Johnson visited in his two trips to Vietnam.

Allied communiques reported more than 500 Communist troops were killed yesterday and today, many of them in fighting unrelated to the enemy shellings.

In the air war, U.S. B52s kept up the pressure on the North Vietnamese encircling the Marine base at Khe Sanh in the far northwest.

The attacks on the cities and camps followed yesterday's shelling of seven air bases, two U.S. command posts and four other installations. Most of the two-day shellings were not followed up by ground attacks, although a hospital at Kontum, in the central highlands, was briefly invaded and damaged by Viet Cong.

Nixon Pledges To 'End War' If President

Not For Pullout, But Holds LBJ 'Wasted' Power

HAMPTON, N.H. (UPI) —Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon today promised to "end the war" in Vietnam if elected president.

"I pledge to you the new leadership will end the war and win the peace in the Pacific," Nixon said.

The Republican presidential candidate said the Johnson Administration had "wasted the nation's military power by using it so gradually.

"If it had used at the start the power it is using now, the war would be over," Nixon said.

Nixon was in New Hampshire in a quest for votes in the state's first-in-the-nation presidential primary March 12.

Nixon, while not spelling out how he would end the war, said the nation has never seen "so much power used so ineffectively."

"I do not suggest withdrawal from Vietnam," Nixon said. "I am not suggesting to you, as you heard in this campaign, any push button way to do this.

"I am saying to you it is possible if we mobilize our economic and political and diplomatic leadership. It can be ended.

"The failure in Vietnam is not the failure of our fighting men, but the failure of our leadership in Washington, D. C., to back them up."

$9.9 Million School Bond For June Ballot

The Tamalpais High School District board last night authorized a $9,900,500 bond issue for the June 4 primary election.

The action came on recommendation by a citizens' bond proposal committee and is for funds to construct high schools at San Geronimo and Tiburon and for construction and renovation of Redwood, Sir Francis Drake and Tamalpais high schools.

A $12.3 million bond issue failed last October and the new proposal trims $2.4 million off that issue. The board also has agreed to use $1 million of its special reserve fund to supplement the $9,900,500, if the bond issue is passed.

This total of $10,900,500 would build the two high schools to accommodate 800 students each, with $4,175,000 earmarked for the San Geronimo project and $5,475,000 for the Tiburon project. It also would provide $930,000 for one new building and renovation of old classrooms at Tamalpais High, $106,700 to enclose the eating area at the Redwood High cafeteria and provide a multi-purpose room,

ANOTHER WALKOUT?—Romania, which walked out on the World Communist Conference in Budapest last week may again challenge Moscow at tomorrow's Warsaw Pact parley in Bulgaria, informed sources predict. (UPI Telephoto)

STILL ROCKING BOAT

Warsaw Pact Next Romanian Target

BUDAPEST (UPI)—Romania will push for a revamping of the Communist Warsaw Pact defense alignment because the Soviet Union dumps outdated weapons on its allies and gives other nations first choice, Romanian sources said today.

They said that Romania could be expected to make its independent move, with some restraint, at the Warsaw Pact summit conference opening in Sofia, Bulgaria, tomorrow.

Romanian sources said Arab countries were receiving modern and highly sophisticated Soviet weapons, while Communist Bloc nations were being given second and third choice.

They said the Soviet Union apparently was not interested in buying equipment from its allies even if it proves worthwrile.

The Soviets appeared increasingly irritated by Romania's disruptive tactics, including the walkout last week from the party conference called to prepare a world Communist summit.

Soviet leaders reportedly stopped off in Bucharest on their way to Sofia to try to smooth over the differences with the Romanians. Reports from Moscow indicated, though, that the Kremlin's patience is running thin over Romanian pressure and the Soviets are in no mood for further concessions.

Opposition Presses Plan To Impeach Panamanian

PANAMA (AP) — Panama's National Assembly elected an all-opposition committee today to investigate impeachment charges against President Marco A. Robles. It was a clear indication that the opposition, with a 30-12 majority, plans to go through with the impeachment.

The election of the committee confirmed the collapse of a compromise reached earlier to avert a political upheaval.

About 2,000 opposition supporters massed outside the assembly hall, called for the president's ouster and draped hangman's nooses on lampposts as a warning to deputies.

The committee has 10 days to return to the assembly with a recommendation to dismiss the complaint against Robles or put him on trial. The complaint charges that he violated the constitutional prohibition against political activity by a president by backing presidential candidate David Samudio, nominated for the May elections by four pro-government parties.

The compromise that collapsed called for Robles to name a new "nonpolitical" cabinet. In return the assembly would name a committee of two opposition and one government deputies who in time would recommend dismissal of the charges against the president. Robles also agreed to some changes in the electoral law.

Sweden Gives Asylum To 7 Deserters

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—Seven more deserters from the U.S. armed forces were granted political asylum today by the Swedish Aliens Commission.

The Americans who said they were defecting to Sweden in protest against the Vietnam War were granted asylum on "humanitarian grounds," a commission spokesman said.

It raised to 20 the number of Americans who have been given refuge in neutral Sweden since the influx of GIs started more than two months ago.

The spokesman said a total of 33 American servicemen are now in Sweden. Thirteen are still waiting for the Aliens Commission to rule on their asylum applications.

The seven granted asylum today were William Wayne Day, 22, of Itasca, Tex.; William Meals, 22, of Atlanta, Ga., Lawrence Berthand, 21, of New Orleans, La.; Kenan Faulks, 20, of Boulder, Colo.; Edward Burkhardt, 20, of Derry, Pa.; Charles Vinson, 22, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Roman D.S. Arnold, born in West Germany of a Yugoslav mother but raised in the United States.

Their army units were not disclosed.

Most of them came to Sweden in recent months from U.S. bases in West Germany, claiming they were earmarked for service in Vietnam.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Civil Service Commission said today that 45 per cent of all federal civilian employees—total of 1,238,748 — now are represented by labor unions.

The American Federation of Government Employees (AFL-CIO) is the largest, representing 326,432 employees. The Post Office Department has the largest number of workers covered by union representation with 608,833, about 86 per cent of its total work force. The commission said the figures did not refer to union membership, only the number of employees covered.

BERKELEY (AP) — A new survey indicates that about half the students attending University of California, Berkeley, are working their way through school.

University officials said yesterday the study is expected to fuel criticism of increases in the present annual fees of $243.

They said the project was started before the 1966 election of Gov. Ronald Reagan, who proposed the boosts.

U.S. To Try Returning Viet Seamen

SAIGON (UPI)—The United States is attempting to return three captured North Vietnamese seamen to Hanoi as a goodwill gesture for the Communist release last month of three American pilots, American officials said today.

They said, if successful, they hoped the return would pave the way for the release of U.S. pilots shot down and captured on bombing missions over the north.

An embassy spokesman said it is up to Hanoi to accept or reject the seamen, taken prisoner in mid-1966 when their patrol boat was sunk during an attack on U. S. Navy ships in the Gulf of Tonkin off North Vietnam.

Informed U. S. sources said a third-country intermediary has been asked by the American embassy to make travel arrangements for the three prisoners to Hanoi. They said there were "no strings attached," that North Vietnam would not be obligated to respond in any way.

The only flight to Hanoi from non-Communist countries is a weekly International Control Commission (ICC) flight which originates in Saigon. The North Vietnamese government reserves the right to reject any passenger on the manifest, so it is conceivable the three seamen could be denied entry to their homeland if Hanoi wanted to block the gesture.

Rec Session Set

Directors of the Strawberry Recreation District will hear a report tomorrow on property maintenance from property manager George C. Lopes. The board meets at 8 p.m. at Strawberry Point School.

Tugs Set To Work On Halved Tanker

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—The powerful U.S. Navy tugs Preserver and Utina today joined three smaller tugs in the struggle to haul away the halved tanker Ocean Eagle and halt the ruinous flow of crude oil blackening San Juan's beaches.

A U.S. Coast Guard spokesman said the three smaller civilian tugs were able to shift the position slightly of the forward section of the 759-foot Liberian ship but that it still was in the same place, just off the entrance to the harbor.

FIVE TUGS

The Coast Guard said it was hoped the five tugs could pull the bow free of the rocks and tow it 100 miles out to sea where it will be sunk in 3,000 fathoms of water (about three miles deep). A spokesman said yesterday's fruitless daylong efforts to free the bow had merely shifted it to where it points north.

The Coast Guard also reported that one of its planes had arrived from Elizabeth City, N.C., with a cargo of 120,000 pounds of liquid emulsifier and other chemicals for use against the oil and that a second plane was due this afternoon.

A spokesman said the Coast Guard still was in charge of the joint military-civilian efforts.

The next job, he said, will be to pump oil from the tanks of the stern section and refloat it. He said there was some danger the stern will drift into the narrow harbor mouth and block the busy port's sea lifeline.

The tanker, with a cargo of 5.7 million gallons of crude oil, slammed onto the rocks Sunday and heavy seas soon split it in two leaking halves. The 35 crewmen were removed safely.

BEACHES FOULED

By today many of the resort city's beaches were fouled with the black sludge and guests at $30-a-day hotels were told they could not swim in the ocean.

Besides the presence of the thick ooze, the emerald waters off San Juan were marred by chemicals used in efforts to dissolve or emulsify the oil.

So far neither hotel owners nor airlines reported any noticeable decrease in travel to the island.

Vietnam Critic Beilenson Will Seek Kuchel's Job

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Declaring a strong stand against the Vietnam war, State Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate.

"I shall be a candidate for the U.S. Senate this spring," said the 35-year-old Beverly Hills senator in a letter yesterday to potential campaign supporters.

He is the first Democrat known so far to announce plans to run for the seat held by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., the assistant GOP Senate leader.

"Frankly, I have become disenchanted with the actions of our national leadership and with the direction in which this country is moving," Beilenson's letter said.

"The war in Vietnam is chief among my concerns, as is the crippling effect of this unjust war on our efforts to end discrimination, alleviate poverty, make our cities livable and salvage the condition of our environment."

Already opposing Kuchel for the Republican nomination in the June 1 California primary is Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction.

Beilenson, father of last year's law liberalizing the state's 19th Century abortion law, has said for some time he would be a probably candidate.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh of Inglewood says he is seriously considering running for the Democratic nomination.

Alioto Turns To BART Problems

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Financial problems of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District have drawn the attention of new Mayor Joseph L. Alioto.

Alioto said the latest effort to provide BART with additional funds — a bill to increase license fees on autos in the Bay Area — "apparently has hit the rocks."

No Objections To Power Lines

No objections to 141-foot high power line towers near Hamilton Air Force Base have been received, the Federal Aviation Administration's area office at Burlingame said today.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. proposes to construct the towers, carrying a 230,000-volt electric line, from a substation in Ignacio, east of Highway 10 and south of Highway 37, eastward along the south side of Highway 37 to Simonds Slough and the northeast to Atherton Avenue in Novato.

The FAA set March 1 as deadline for objections to the towers. A Department of Transportation ruling that the towers would not be in an airport runway zone becomes final on March 11.

Historian Sees Violence, Riots Part Of The American Tradition

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Whether America likes it or not, violence and rioting are part of its tradition, President Johnson's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorder was told.

"There has been a good deal more violence and disorder in the American tradition than even historians have been willing to recognize," a study of rioting in America concluded.

The study, prepared by historian Richard Wade of the University of Chicago, was used by the commission in preparing its report on last summer's riot. A copy of his conclusions, hitherto confidential, was made available to United Press International by Congressional sources.

PART OF GROWTH

"It is already quite clear that disorder and violence in our cities were not simply occasional aberrations, but rather a significant part of urban development and growth," Wade said.

"From the Stamp Act riots of the pre-Revolutionary age, to the assaults on immigrants and Catholics in the decades before the Civil War, to the grim confrontation of labor and management at the end of the 19th Century and its sporadic reappearance after World War I and during the Depression, through the long series of racial conflicts for two centuries, American cities have known the physical clash of groups, widescale breakdown of established authority and bloody disorder," Wade wrote.

But, he told the commission, "race riots were almost always different from other kinds of disorders. Their roots were deeper; they broke out with increasing frequency; and their intensity mounted rather than declined."

"Until recently, the Negro has largely been the object of the riot," he noted.

He contended that Negroes now riot as a member of their race, not as a member of their class. Even though 68 per cent of America's poor people are white, "the disorders stem almost wholly from black ghettoes."

Because of prejudice, Wade said, middle-class Negroes are locked into the slum and because they are "they comprise now a growingly alienated and embittered group."

"The middle-class Negroes became embittered at their exclusion from the decent white neighborhoods of the city and suburbs," he said. "These people, after all, had done what society expected of them; they got their education, training, jobs and income. Yet even so they were deprived of that essential symbol of American success—the home in a neighborhood of their own choosing where conditions would be more pleasant and schools better for their children."

THE MAKEUP

As a consequence of this bitterness, Wade told the commission, it is the middle-class Negroes whose children "make up the cadres of black militants in the colleges.

"And when the riots come," the middle-class "tolerate the activity even though they usually do not themselves participate. In short, the fact of the ghetto forces them to identify with race not class."

PEACE

of extremists, he said.

For authority, he quoted the California Supreme Court decision on the anti-war referendum in San Francisco, in which the court said it is "one of the purposes of local government . . . to represent its citizens before the congress . . . in matters over which the local government has no power."

SIGNINGS SIGHTED

Anti-war forces were out in strength, and a spokesman for the Peace and Freedom Party said he had obtained 80 signatures on the party's own anti-war resolution, which blamed the war on President Johnson and the "exploitive, inhuman industrial-military bureaucracy which he represents."

Mill Valley contractor Don Stevens put it squarely up to the council in a fortissimo wind-up to the audience comments. "The council should not be allowed, in some phony bow to so-called democracy," to avoid voting on the resolution, he said. "You were elected as leaders of the people — live up to your responsibility!"

Phillip Drath of San Rafael, congressional peace candidate, spoke briefly on the Vietnam war and said the Vietnamese will never stop fighting unless we kill them all. If you do that, China will come into the war, he said, and "we'll be destroying ourselves."

Expected opposition within the council did not materialize. Conservative Councilman George Wickham said, "everyone is concerned" about the Vietnam war, and agreed to support the resolution if it were placed on the ballot as well.

Wickham got one amendment into the resolution, adding "the members" to the phrase "the members of the city council are concerned," etc. His objections had centered on the councilmen speaking for the city at large and not just themselves.

City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said the addition made no difference to the resolution's effect.

Most of the council read prepared statements backing the resolution instead of speaking extemporaneously.

Councilman Michael Wornum admitted "profound misgivings" but said he war's effect of diverting funds and energy from local projects make it a local issue. "A modicum of political courage requires that one speak out and be counted," he said.

Mayor Albert E. White said teh nation "should be more concerned with the sanctity of human life . . . we have become incredibly calloused . . . I must personally support the resolution for myself and for the people who elected me."

"I feel democrary is best served by speaking out," Councilman Dean N. Meyer said. "But I would like the issue also to be put to a referendum . . . so the people can also speak up."

After the resolution and ballot measure were approved, Wickham tried, without success, to have another measure put on the April 9 ballot.

It would have asked if the council should act for "the citizens of . . . Mill Valley on matters of national or foreign policies or on any such other issues that may arise and over which the council has no authority."

The proposal died without a second after other councilmen pointed out than an adverse vote could tie the council's hands on regional matters such as bay fill, transit and highways.

The resolution and the result of the April 9 vote will be sent to the president and to congress.

Councilman Robinson said after the meeting he hoped private money could be raised to send the resolution to other city councils and urge its passage throughout the country.

Latin Aide In Hijacked Airliner

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — A Colombian airliner with 30 persons aboard, including a close aide to President Carlos Lleras Restrepo, was hijacked at gunpoint today and forced to fly to Cuba, Avianca Airline said.

The aide was Emilio Urrea, close friend of the president, who had been visiting some government communal action projects on the Colombian coast.

The airline said the pilot told them he was being forced to fly to Santiago in eastern Cuba, about 900 miles to the north of Colombia's coast.

The plane's pilot, a Capt. Viles, described the situation on board the plane as normal but did not report on the number of hijackers or their identity.

The incident was the second in two weeks involving a commercial plane flown at gunpoint to the Cuban capital.

Lawrence M. Rhodes, 28, of Welch, W.Va. hijacked a Miami-bound Delta Airlines DC8 jet with 108 persons aboard Feb. 21 and sought political asylum in Havana. He was wanted on a kidnap-robbery charge in West Virginia.

Satellite's Experiments Turned On

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The nation's newest space laboratory, the 1,347-pound OGO 5, is sending back information from 18 of its 24 scientific experiments, officials said today.

The instruments were turned on between midnight and 5:30 a.m. PST and were reported operating successfully. The remaining experiments will be started up by Thursday.

The Orbiting Geophysical Observatory was launched from from Cape Kennedy at 5:06 a.m. PST yesterday. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said its elongated orbit is close to the one planned.

OGO 5 is on a path which carries it from 175 miles above the earth to a distance of 92,700 miles.

Awaiting launch today at Wallops Island, Va., was a 198-pound Explorer satellite designed solely to measure radiation from the sun at a time when solar activity is intensifying. The satellite's readings will help scientists devise ways to warn moon-bound astronauts of radiation dangers.

The shot was postponed four times because of bad weather.

hiring of special counsel to help develop a possible permanent ordinance. The session was followed with a vote and hiring of the San Rafael law firm of Bagley, Bearnt, Bianchi and Sheeks.

The council then named Albert Bianchi of the firm as its representative and specified that he is to work with the town's planning commission toward the more complete ordinance. The council pointed out, however, that the interim ordinance can be renewed after the 90 days for one year, and then again for a second year, if desired.

Synanon has expressed it intention of buying the Uplands Apartment, 5200 Paradise Drive, East Corte Madera. Zoning Administrator William McBride has told the council that under Synanon's method of operation, it would be an illegal residence without a use permit. The emergency ordinance passed last night declares that "it has become apparent" that the existing ordinance is inadequate to guarantee the health, safety and welfare of Corte Madera.

It also specifies that use permits must be obtained for buildings used for treatment of the mentally disordered sex offender, the mentally ill and alcoholics.

Bianchi told the council the emergency ordinance is not necessarily directed against any landowner, but he quoted a letter from Synanon explaining its "life style" plan and said the ordinance will ban rehabilitation of narcotic addicts unless a use permit is obtained.

Bianchi told newsmen later, "this blocks any use of the Uplands or any other property for the purposes set out in the articles of incorporation of Synanon having to do with life style and rehabilitation of narcotic addicts."

He said the new ordinance, which he has been informally working on with Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis at Davis' request, probably does nothing that the present ordinance doesn't do, but "it spells it out in considerably more detail. This one takes no chances."

bridge board are selected by supervisors in the six counties in the district, but are themselves not elected officals.

Bagley's bill also would provide that Sonoma and Napa Counties could join the new district.

Both measures "are calculated to unstack the deck as it is presently stacked against the North Bay communter and San Francisco business and commerical interests," Bagley said.

Co-sponsor of the Senate bill with McCarthy, was Sen. George R. Moscone, D-San Francisco.

Proposals for bus and ferry systems between Marin and San Francisco, McCarthy said, "would be short term programs at best and would sharply reduce much needed financial resources."

SYNANON

apart one racial or ethnic group and we are living in an integrated manner."

The Synanon founder explained that newcomers to their communities are asked to act in a manner showing their acceptance of integration whether they feel that way or not. "We find that soon they do feel the way they are acting," he said.

High moral values, abstinence from drugs and alcohol and integration of races, then, Dederich expounded, all are characteristic of Synanon facilities.

On a more pragmatic level, Dederich claimed that Synanon has improved every piece of property it has purchased. "As a matter of fact, if we get the Uplands, we will have to spend several thousand dollars to bring many of the apartments up to our living standards since they have been badly vandalized and damaged," he added.

Asked what will happen to the present residents of the Uplands if Synanon purchases the buildings, Garrett said that many of the occupants have leases.

"When their leases are up, if they don't wish to conform to Synanon way of life, they will politely be asked to leave," Garrett said. "We can afford to do this because we have a long waiting list for all our housing."

Rents at the Uplands will probably also be raised, Dederich said, because the "place is running at a dead loss now."

"Which Synanon members will move into the Uplands?" Dederich was asked.

He replied that "of course, judgement will be exercised as to which people will life in the apartments there." It will not necessarily have to do with length of stay at Synanon's facilities. Dederich said frankly of Synanon, "There are people who have been here years that I wouldn't sit at the dinner table with."

"We will put people in the apartments who will live there in a responsible manner," he stated.

order at 11 p.m. He was aroused by firemen at about 5 a.m.

Twenty firemen, using more more than a dozen engines and trucks, fought the fire about 45 minutes before bringing it under control.

The second story, weighted with tons of heavy machinery, collapsed. Neighbors reported hearing several small explosions during the fire, although Trivett said he knew of only one blast — caused by a drum of acetone, a highly volatile chemical used by Hopfeld and his 10 employees in making fiberglass ladders.

Trivett declined to estimate damage, although Hopfeld said it would run close to $1 million.

Besides the main building, an adjoining shop at 738 A Street, also used by Hopfeld, suffered smoke and water damage.

Hopfeld said he opened the business 25 years ago, extending the main shop 30 feet to the rear about a year ago.

Suspect In Santa Rosa Murder Asks Venue Change

One of the suspects in the Santa Rosa murder of a 19-year-old junior college student, who was to have made a plea this morning, had his case continued to Friday when he will make a plea and ask for change of venue.

Jack E. Brockman, 21, of Sebastopol, is charged with the murder of Charles Kaufmann, along with Johnny Lee Sommerhalder, 24, and Kenneth Allen Preston, 20, both of Santa Rosa.

Sommerhalder and Preston, who are also accused of the Jan. 12 murder of a Santa Venetia barber and his wife, have not been arraigned for the Santa Rosa murder.

Asst. Dist. Atty. John Hawkes of Sonoma County said that he did not know yet whether Sommerha'der and Preston will also ask to have their trial held elsewhere.

Oak Manor Home Looted Of Weapons

Thieves crept through an open window in Rells Q. Dorius's home at 178 Oak Manor Drive, Oak Manor, Saturday night and stole two shotguns and two rifles, Marin Sheriff's deputies reported today.

Deputies also reported three other burglaries which occurred over the weekend.

Burglars smashed in a front window of the summer cabin of Allen Sproul Jr. of 251 Crescent Road, San Anselmo, on Ocean Parkway in Bolinas Sunday and stole tools and food, they said.

Burglars near Corte Madera pried a window of Donald R. Paulack's home at 1067 Meadowsweet Drive, and stole $1,355 worth of appliances, jewelry, tools, liquor and a revolver, officers reported. The burglary occurred Friday night.

In Inverness, thieves forced the front door of Ela's Village Shop on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard Saturday night. Proprietor Ela Mary Cannon said they stole five $8 strands of hippie beads and five $5 brooches, according to deputies.

Tiburon Sewer Board Studies New Cove Plant

Directors of the Tiburon Sanitary District last night again discussed intalling a treatment plant a Paradise Cove, but took no action.

The 15,000 gallon plant would cost between $20,000 and $25,000 and accommodate 30 families, according to Edward P. Ward, secretary.

Ward said the directors will probably take action on the plant at the April 1 session.

The board accepted the resignation of plant operator Harrison Bailey as of Feb. 29 and agreed to hire as a replacement Larry Haynes, 39, of 2 Mesa Avenue, Mill Valley, at a salary of $525.

Rifles Stolen

Four rifles valued at $400 were stolen from the home of Benedict Viering at 154 Bret Harte Road, San Rafael, said police. Also taken was a telescopic sight and ammunition.

Tennessee Valley Girl, 2, Injured By Postal Truck

A two-year-old girl was hospitalized yesterday after being struck by a postal truck in Tennessee Valley while she was playing in the street.

Dena Childriss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Childress of 32-A Villa Garden Drive was reported in good condition today at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco with a scalp cut.

The California Highway Patrol reported that the child crawled into the street in front of 20 Villa Garden Drive at 11 a.m. as a Mill Valley postal truck, driven by Arthur J. Guerrero, 26, of 39 Walnut Avenue, Mill Valley, was backing up to make a delivery.

City-County Planning Council Is Given Backing

The Tiburon Planning Commission last night decided to recommend the city take part in a joint powers agreement to form a City and County Planning Council.

A presentation on the subject by Mill Valley Councilman Michael Wornum was canceled by Wornum yesterday so he could attend the Mill Valley Council meeting, according to Phil V. Scott, commission secretary.

The commission decided to recommend the city council adopt an interim sign ordinance until the comprehensive sign ordinance is completed.

A hearing was set by the commission on a downtown plan it has created for April 1 at 8 p.m. at City Hall, according to Scott.

Some Teacher Pay Forms Approved

The Marin County Board of Education last night approved a salary schedule for special education teachers providing pay incentives for teachers who get extra training. The board failed to agree on a pay schedule for the school system's administrative staff.

The salaries with incentives range from $7,315 for a teacher with one year's experience to $14,089 for a teacher with eight year's experience and a doctorate in education or philosophy. The schedule compares with a range this year of $7,313 to $12,958 and will cost $12,568 to implement next school year, according to Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools.

The baord sent administrative pay plans back to the Administrative Services Committee for more detailed information.

The Marin County Board of Education also:

FUND TRANSFER — Authorized transfer of $3,549 from the Department of Corrections to the San Quentin Prison contractual fund account to employ a music teacher at the prison school.

READING — Authorized the superintendent to apply for state funds under the Miller-Unruh Basic Reading Act to employ a reading specialist teacher for the county's small schools.

WORKSHOPS — Designated teacher specialists to lead workshops in reading and mathematics during March and April. Reading workshops will be directed by Mrs. Jacqueline Palmer and Mrs. Toby Rein of the Larkspur School District and Dr. Robert Bainbridge, associate professor at San Jose State College. Mathematics workshops will be led by Dr. Euclyn Newfeld and Dr. William Lucas of the Santa Clara School remedial mathematics supervisor for Berkeley city schools.

BILL OF RIGHTS — Heard from the Educational Services Committee a progress report on the Bill of Rights project in Marin County schools. A teacher's sourcebook on teaching of the Bill of Rights had been distrabuted to all schools and a workshop on teaching of the Bill of Rights will be sponsored in April by the Marin County Council for Social Studies and the Constitutional Rights Foundation.

Quentin Inmates Get Extra Time

San Quentin convict Hugo A. Pinell, serving time for a San Francisco rape, was sentenced in Marin Superior Court today to terms of three years to life and one-to-three years for striking a prison guard and having a knife in his possession while in prison.

Municipal Court Judge Peter Allen Smith, sitting in Superior Court, said the sentences will be consecutive to the term Pinell is now serving, but concurrent with each other.

Judge Smith also sentenced David L. Evans, serving time for grand theft, to one to three years in prison for striking a prison guard Sept. 4. He will start serving the sentence when his present term expires, the judge said.

Plans For Sycamore Avenue Worked Out

Both ends of the proposed Sycamore Avenue extension were pinnned down last night by the Mill Valley City Council, but the alignment between was left free to zigzag according to future planning for the harbor and middle school in the area. (Another Mill Valley Council story, page 1.)

The extension will provide another exit from Enchanted Knolls, link the road of Highway 101, and serve the harbor and school.

The council agreed to locate the two ends so preliminary agreements for harbor development can be executed.

Clearing the way for the middle school at Project 17, the council accepted a grant deed from Virginia Moraes for two land parcels at East Blithedale Avenue and Kipling Drive, and accepted a release of deed restrictions on the Project 17 area.

The Moraes signature was the last needed on a waiver of deed restrictions, which limited the Project 17 land to park and recreation uses. The city is now free to exchange the land for school district property so the middle school and a joint recreaction facility can be built at Project 17.

The Mill Valley City Council also:

PARKING — Agreed to free downtown parking on Saturdays. Meters will be bagged for the first few months and signs on meter hours will be changed. The council will review the policy every six months.

Chamber of Commerce officials said recent increases in meter revenue should balance the estimated $1,000 a year loss of Saturday meter revenue.

FIRE TAX — Passed its annual resolution asking exclusion from the structural part of the Marin County fire tax.

ELECTION — Named election officers and designated precincts and polling places for the April 9 election.

ROAD PRIORITY — Urged the board of supervisors to put the Miller Avenue extension on this year's county highway priority list.

Interact Club Formed At School

Charter members of the newly formed Interact Club of San Rafael High School were presented membership cards by the Rotary Club of San Rafael, which is sponsoring the club, at a luncheon yesterday. Dr. Gary Boero made the presentation.

Rules of the club will require the boys to have two community or school service projects a year, he said. Plans for these have as yet not been made.

Charge Reduced To Petty Theft

Poncy Felix Balmix, 31, of San Francisco, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of petty theft after being arrested Saturday for suspicion of burglary.

Evelyn F. Allen of San Rafael complained to police that she found him trying to take a lamp shade from her garage.

He pleaded innocent and his case was continued until Thurdsay for a trial before a Municipal Court judge.

Family Life Report On Board's Agenda

Report of a faculty committee which has been working out a course of study of "family life" will be heard today at 7:45 p.m. by Fairfax School District board in the district office, 58 Park Road.

Also appearing before the board will be Mrs. Mary Olive of San Anselmo, who has urged representation of the Sir Francis Drake High School attendance area on the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

Tiburon Told To Find Own Equipment Site

Belvedere last night gave sister city Tiburon until July 1 to find its own corporation yard or get out of town.

"People on Lagoon Road aren't very happy about all that extra equipment," said Mayor John R. Moore. "Tiburon never had it so good —they're getting free rent in our corporation yard."

Councilman Thomas S. Price agreed, saying he felt Tiburon was "honestly not making any effort to find another site."

The council unanimously voted to deliver the ultimatum to Tiburon but to soften the blow by letting that city know Belvedere is still willing to talk about buying a joint corporation site, until the deadline.

The council accepted a planning commission recommendation to establish priorities for undergrounding utilities on Beach Road, in which the Belvedere Land Co. has offered to share expenses and on San Rafael Avenue because it is the entrance to Belvedere.

The Belvedere City Council last night also:

BACKSTOP — Authorized Cavalli to purchase a portable baseball backstop for the community park playground, not to exceed $300.

STEPS — Accepted a report from City Engineer Albert H. Siemer estimating the cost of reinforcing concrete steps from Bellevue Avenue on Corinthian Island to Belvedere Cove at up to $5,000.

ARBOR DAY — Heard a report from Councilman Price that Brownies will plant a living Christmas tree outside Community Hall on Arbor Day, Thursday.

FIRE MAINS — Accepted Cavalli's recommendation to enter into an agreement with the Marin Municipal Water District to improve fire mains on Bayview Avenue at a cost of $3,000 to the city.

INSTITUTE — Authorized Deputy Clerk Mrs. Molly Holsinger to attend a city clerk's institute April 24-26 in Palo Alto.

ELECTION — Appointed election officers for the April 9 municipal election.

FURNITURE — Adopted a resolution of appreciation to Mrs. Mary S. Mazur for her gift of several pieces of furniture to the city offices, including the conference table and executive chairs used by the council.

BCDC-ABAG — Decided to support Senate Bill 231 continuing the powers of the Bay Conservation and Development Commission and gave a vote of confidence to the Association of Bay Area Governments.

DRYDOCKS — In response to an unidentified citizens request, decided to urge the board of supervisors to expedite the removal of drydocks across the bay near Sausalito.

SET HEARING — Adjourned to March 25 at 8 p.m., at Community Hall for a hearing on an assessment district to install fire mains on Crest, Cliff and Eycalyptus roads.

Brown Objects To Delegates

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Gov. Edmund G. Brown says the presence of two former supporters of Gov. Ronald Reagan on California's pro-Johnson delegation to the Democratic National Convention is a "slap in the face" to "loyal" Democrats.

Brown predicted that if he refuses to serve on the delegation, "other prominent Democrats will stay off."

He said he told Johnson campaign aides in Washington last weekend that he would not serve if the two former Reagan supporters remained on the slate.

The two, former singer Phil Regan and former State Sen. George Rochester, who backed Reagan in his 1966 gubernatorial victory over Brown, were nominated by Mayor Sam Yorty for the delegate posts.

Pesticides can only be used economically to wipe out perhaps 90 per cent of an insect species. To get the remaining 10 per cent, a nonchemical method may be used. The nonchemical method can be especially effective when the insect population reaches a low ebb.

Farm labor leader Cesar Chavez (right) today entered the 20th day of what he terms a "spiritual and penitential fast." He had his last meal Feb. 13. He has lost 13 pounds and has to be assisted in walking. Despite pleas from supporters to return to his post, including Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, the Delano resident plans to continue the fast. With him at a court hearing at Bakersfield last week was Leroy Chatfield (left), a union aide. (AP Wirephoto)

New Jordan River Clashes

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Jordanian and Israeli troops exchanged machinegun fire across the Jordan River again today in another of the series of border clashes that have kept the Mideast in a turmoil since the June war.

An Israeli spokesman said the shooting started at 10 a.m. when Jordanian troops on the east bank fired on an Israeli army patrol on the west bank. No casualties were reported.

Israel was reported angry because of the series of skirmishes and continued sabotage and terrorist attacks inside Israeli-occupied territory. An Israeli truck was ambushed Monday night and a civilian was wounded, the spokesman said.

Richard Cordall is captain of Marin County Sheriff's Patrol.

Hospital Plans Are On Agenda

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency will hear a report on plans for a convalescent hospital in Marin City when it meets at 7:30 p.m. today at the First Missionary Baptist Church, 501 Drake Avenue, Marin City.

The agency will reconvene at 8:30 p.m. as the Marin County Housing Authority. The authority agenda includes an agreement to provide $37,550 in financial assistance to the Marin City Community Services District during the next 12 months. Charles W. Story, district executive director, will speak on the agreement.

The authority is also to award a contract for construction of senior citizens' housing in Homestead Valley. Bids were to be opened at 2 p.m. today.

Senate Defeats 'Fair Play' Proposal For New Parties

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Showing no desire to share the ballot with newcomers, Senate Republicans and Democrats joined to erase the election threat posed by some members of the American Independent and Peace and Freedom parties.

The result of yesterday's decisive vote is to wipe out the potential legislative candidacy of scores of antiwar Peace and Freedomites, and the segregationist, pro-war American Independents who back former Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

However, a few who can meet the rigid requirements drawn by the two major parties still will be present on the June 4 primary and then move into the Nov. 5 general election.

The two new parties each got more than 100,000 voters to sign up in support, qualifying a third party for the California ballot for the first time since 1962.

But as last month's deadline to file a declaration of intention to run for office neared, a major obstacle loomed in the path of the splinter party candidates.

Current law forbids a candidate from running for Congress or the Legislature in the primary if he has been a member of another party in the past year.

This provision would eliminate most of the potential American Independent and Peace and Freedom candidates, since they switched from the Republican and Democratic parties within the year, and the new groups weren't officially qualified until recently.

The new organizations submitted a flood of possible candidates, most of them political unknowns, just before the deadline to file — hoping to qualify at least some candidates for the ballot.

They also banked their hopes on a bill by Democratic Sen. Alfred E. Alquist of San Jose which came up in the Senate Monday. It would have eliminated — for this year only —the ban on membership with another party for a year.

Alquist called it "the fair play bill," but in the end only six Democrats and four Republicans voted in favor of the measure.

Bureaucrats existed in Sumerian society. A chronicler of about 2350 B. C. wrote, "The petty official who brought the dead to the cemetery has to be paid off with seven pitchers of beer and 420 loaves of bread. And the tax collectors lurk everywhere."

CRITICS CHALLENGED

Zucker Retorts To Jury Reports

The 1967 Marin County Grand Jury, which criticized the rising cost of operating the Marin County Planning Department, gave inadequate study to the department and lacked ojectivity, County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker charged yesterday.

Zucker leveled the chage in a written report he submitted to the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday afternoon.

'ONE EVENING'

He said he spent one short evening with the grand jury sub-committee which investigated the planning department. "To my knowledge, the sub-committee did not visit the department nor did they request copies of numerous documents I suggested they study. Our sole contact consisted of the one short evening, supplemented by a letter I furnished indicating turnover of the departmental employees."

Zucker asserted that the budget figures used by the grand jury were incorrect. The jury compares department costs of $173,000 in the year ending June 1965 to $376,000 in the year ending June 1968.

NOT INFLATIONARY'

"Actually, the budget for the year ending June 1965 was $215,665," said Zucker. "I was not responsible for the 1965 budget nor can I defend it." Zucker was hired in January of 1966.

He said that in his first budget (1966-67) he asked for and got $377,758. "We have just completed our third budget, requesting $399,672. This amounts to an increase of only 5.8 per cent over three years which is well below any inflationary indicator you care to use."

The jury noted that the department's employees rose from 20 in 1965 to 29 today. "This is true," said Zucker. "However, the 29 positions were authorized in this first budget submitted since I became director, and have stayed constant for the past three years."

The grand jury noted that Marin County's planning costs are seventh highest per capita of all counties in the state. Zucker asserted that this type of comparison is "of questionable usefulness" because planning costs per 100 population vary from a low of $4.43 to a high of $764.84.

Zucker said that the grand jury empasized the drop in construction and reduction in land area of the unincorporated area but made no attempt to correlate them to the department's work load. He acknowledged that the work load dropped in some categories but increased in others such as enforcement, land division work, and advance planning.

Lighthouse Fate Studied By Planners

Is the East Brothers Island lighthouse station off Point San Pablo enough of a picturesque symbol of a bygone era to be saved from destruction?

The Marin County Planning Commissioners mulled this question yesterday at the request of the City of Richmond Planning Commission, which is fighting demolition of the light station by the Coast Guard.

The island and light station, established in 1873, are familiar sights for those traveling over the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge and can also be spotted from San Rafael across the bay opposite Marin Islands.

County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker recommended that Marin join the City of Richmond, asking the Coast Guard not to tear down the facility. The Coast Guard wants to replace the station with auto-automatic equipment.

"It represents a good sample of the more and more vanishing marine symbols of bygone eras and is particularly appreciated by recreational boaters," said Zucker.

"We ought to hear both sides of the question before we act," said Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr.

"How about the cost of removal as compared with the cost of operation?" asked Dr. William F. Upton. "And will an automated device be as effective? These are questions that should be answered."

The planning commissioners postponed a decision until March 18 to get more information from the Coast Guard.

Series Of Thefts In Mill Valley

Mill Valleyans reported a series of petty thefts and burglaries Saturday, Mill Valley police reported yesterday.

The seats were stolen from a car owned by William Chambers of 161 Oakdale Avenue, and a spare tire was stolen from a car owned by Louis D. Nordbye of 21 Buena Vista Avenue, Corte Madera, while it was parked at 393 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

Janice L. Solina of 6 Barrie Way reported a television set stolen from her residence, and Donald Bellar of 191 Throckmorton Avenue, Apt. 6-A, reported an electric guitar and amplifier stolen from his apartment.

Kappas' Harbor Seen As Tourist Magnet

The cluttered area in and around George Kappas' Yacht Harbor south of Richardson Bay Bridge will eventually become a quaint area for public strolling, bicycling and fishing, according to plans envisaged by County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker.

Zucker yesterday gave a progress report on plans he is devising for development of the waterfront area from Richardson Bay Bridge to Donlon J. Arques' houseboats.

Zucker envisages a four-lane road and a bicycle path from Sausalito to Mill Vallley, with a public road leading up Kappas' pier where viewing and fishing would be permitted at the end of the pier.

"We see nothing wrong in maintaining something like the Arques houseboat facility with a public boardwalk to the end of the pier," said Zucker.

He said each property owner would be asked to dedicate one-third of his holdings as open water area. "We hope to have open water as close as possible to Highway 101," said Zucker. "We can perhaps dredge a little so that the mud won't be exposed."

At the north end under Richardson Bay Bridge, Zucker foresees a resort-commercial area, with the heliport and a motel-restaurant facility built on piers.

Commissioner Michael Praszker said he is concerned with silting that is being caused by Kappas' filling operations. "If we could get rid of the Kappas monstrosity, we would have better flushing action of the water." Praszker warned that silting is occurring at such a rate that "in 10 years, we won't have any water at all."

Zucker said his study on Richardson Bay development has not included flooding and tidal action, but these will be studied in later phases.

Retirement Party For Marinite

John J. Coffey of 131 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax, has retired as marine superintendent for the Bay Cities Transportation Co. of San Francisco.

He was feted at a retirement banquet Thursday at A. Sabella's on Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco where he was presented a silver ship's clock.

During his 24 years as marine superintendent he traveled from Mexico to Alaska overseeing work of Puget Sound-Alaska Van Lines and Oregon Coast Towing Co., affiliate companies.

Coffey and his wife Ellen, plan to live on the island of Hawaii, where they have already purchased a home.

International Fraud Suspects Indicted

NEW YORK (AP) — Five men who allegedly cooked up an international embezzlement scheme to steal nearly $12 million from the Chase Manhattan Bank have been indicted by a federal grand jury on conspiracy charges.

U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau said yesterday the scheme came within one word of success. He explained that a fraudulent cable from Chase to a Swiss bank aroused suspicion only because it called for a money transfer in dollars instead of francs.

Highway Priority Shuffles Gives San Rafael Viaduct Top Place

Widening of Highway 101 to eight lanes from Greenbrae to the Golden Gate Bridge, which county supervisors only last Tuesday informally gave top priority of all highway projects in Marin, was demoted yesterday.

Instead, supervisors and city and civic officials agreed that top priority must go to construction of a new San Rafael viaduct west of the present structure.

The viaduct had not been included in the list because the supervisors thought the California Highway Commission had approved it for funding in fiscal 1968-69. Since last week, however, supervisors learned that the commission's resolution was only to make improvements between the north end of the viaduct and North San Pedro Road.

The misunderstanding was reported by Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen at a meeting yesterday between representatives of the State Division of Highways and about 65 local officials at the Tiburon Lodge. The noon meeting was one in a series on highway allocation sponsored annually throughout the state by the State Chamber of Commerce.

The state already has completed drawing plans for the viaduct and has bought the necessary rights-of-way.

The tentative list of priorities, if amended to put the viaduct at the top, would place improvement of Highway 101 through Novato in third place. Kettenhofen, however, said the Novato project "probably should be second." The list will be heard by the supervisors next Tuesday (March 12), and then will become the official county stand on highway preferences for fiscal 1969-70.

The meeting was co-sponsored by the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau.

$432,733 In Permits For Hub Projects

Twelve building permits for projects totaling $432,733 were issued last month by the San Anselmo Building Department. The projects included a 17-unit apartment complex to cost $250,784 at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo.

Building permits for February 1967 totaled $47,700, and $19,495 for January 1968.

Wilder Novel Is Judged Top Fiction

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Eighth Day," a mystery novel by Thornton Wilder, has been judged the most distinguished fiction by an American writer in 1967 in the 19th annual National Book Awards.

The awards in fiction and five other categories, which include a cash prize of $1,000 each, will be presented in a ceremony in Philharmonic Hall at Lincoln Center tomorrow night. The awards were made public last night.

History and biography—George F. Kennan's "Memoirs 1925-1950."

Science, philosophy and religion—Jonathan Kozol of Boston for "Death at an Early Age," a description of a Boston elementary school.

Arts and letters—the late William Troy, for "Selected Essays."

Poetry—Robert Bly of Madison, Wis., for "The Light Around the Body."

Translation—Howard and Edna Hong of Northfield, Minn., for their translation of Soren Kierkegaard's Journals and Papers, Vol. 1, published by the Indiana University Press.

Court Ruling Blocks Harbor Point Appeal

A controversial lot split granted to developer Stanley W. Taylor in Harbor Point Unit 1 will have to stand because a Marin Superior Court judge has ruled in Taylor's favor, the Marin County Planning Commissioners were informed yesterday.

Residents of Harbor Point objected to the lot split at 369 and 371 East Strawberry Drive, and their appeal came before the planning commission for a hearing yesterday.

"You have jurisdiction to hear it," said Joseph A. Forest, deputy county counsel. "But there's no action you can take because the court has unconditionally approved the land division."

Forest added that Marin Superior Court Judge Joseph E. Wilson had ruled in favor of Taylor, not only for the one lot split but on 14 other lots, permitting a total of about 22 lots.

The Marin County Planning Commission also:

SEQUEIRA ZONING—Rezoned a small portion of the Julia T. Sequeira property on Miller Creek Road, Marinwood, from planned community to agricultural so that the Sequeira homesite can be split for another home for a member of the family.

PLANNED RESIDENTIAL — Approved a planned multiple residential zoning on a 28,000 square-foot lot owned by Frank and Maria Flores at the corner of North San Pedro Road and Merrydale Road. It is now zoned for duplexes and commercial, and has two duplexes and a single family home. The rezoning will allow more units to be built, with the exact density to be determined when plans come in for architectural approval.

NOWELL SERVICE STATION — Continued until March 18 a decision on Tom E. Nowell's application for approval of plans for a service station, motel and coffee shop next to the heliport just south of Richardson Bay Bridge. Planning commissioners said they approve of the plan in principle but want details on access and placement of the motel and coffee shop.

NEW STORE — Approved a new grocery store for Kenneth Niles at the corner of Shoreline Highway and Laurel Street in Tamalpais Valley, with seven parking spaces, on condition that only right hand turns will be allowed on Shoreline. Lighting, signing, and landscaping will be subject to design review by the county planning staff.

TRAP CLUB — Renewed for another five years the use permit of the Novato Trap Club to operate trap and skeet shooting at Mira Monte, between San Antonio Creek and the railroad tracks, north of the Marin County Airport in Novato.

MOBILE HOME — Approved details of a mobile home park between 200 and 206 units, which Cortez Development Co. will install on Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, between Nave Lanes and the Marin County Humane Society building. The approval will expire in 18 months if the mobile home park is not established by then. The rezoning for mobile homes was approved on Feb. 19 by 4 to 3 vote of the planning commission.

Youth In Thefts Is Committed

A 19-year-old Mill Valley youth who was charged with burglarizing businesses, auto theft, marijuana possession and petty theft in Mendocino County was committed Friday to Mendocino State Hospital at Talmadge.

Peter M. Perdue, who faced two jury trials in Superior Court at Ukiah, one on the marijuana and petty theft charges and another for the burglaries and auto theft, will be in the hospital for an indefinite period, according to the clerk of the court.

Perdue was accused of the December burglaries of a supply firm, a bar, a real estate office and a snack bar in the Redwood Valley section near Ukiah.

No decision has yet been made whether Perdue will stand trial at a later date, the clerk said.

Petty Theft Cases Probed

Cases of petty theft, burglary and vandalism were reported in Tiburon over the weekend, according to sheriff's deputies.

Allen E. Baker of 15 Corinthian Court, told deputies the spare tire was stolen from his sports car early Sunday while it was in his carport.

Chester B. Noyes of 2348 Mar East Street, reported that while he and his wife were away Sunday between 4 and 9:15 p.m. someone took a barometer and a kerosene lamp from their unlocked residence.

Deputy Richard H. Keaton reported that someone broke a window in the ticket booth of the main street parking lot about 2:21 a.m. Sunday. It is owned by Fred Zelinsky.

Barnard Holds Transplants Up To Medics

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Dr. Christiaan Barnard, the world's first heart transplant surgeon, says doctors must be allowed to call off treatment for dying patients whose organs are to be used in transplant operations.

Barnard, who has performed two of history's six heart transplants, said yesterday he has been unconvinced by objections to heart transplants on moral grounds.

'ASKED TO CURE'

"Doctors are asked to cure, not just keep alive," the surgeon said. "They must have the right to withdraw the therapy when there is no hope for the patient.

"The authority to decide legal and ethical implications in cardiac transplants rests with the medical profession alone. Doctors have one obligation—to treat their patients until no further means are available," said Barnard.

The South African specialist spoke before 500 persons at a meeting of the Commonwealth Club. He later flew to New York to confer with Dr. C. Walton Lillehei at Cornell Medical College.

NO DIFFERENCE

Barnard, 44, said the realization of heart transplants as a medical technique does not mean the meaning of death must be redefined.

He said there should be no difference between the procedure of signing a death certificate for an average patient than for a patient who is about to donate his heart to someone else.

Barnard performed his first transplant Dec. 3 on Louis Washkansky, 54, at Cape Town, South Africa. Washkansky died 18 days later from pneumonia.

Barnard's second patient was Philip Blaiberg, also 54, a retired dentist. Blaiberg, who received his new heart Jan. 2, may be able to leave the hospital later this month, Barnard said.

At a meeting with newsmen later, Barnard was asked about the relationship between smoking and heart disease.

The surgeon, after pausing to light a cigarette, said he would advise persons with coronary artery disease to give up smoking.

"Fortunately my arteries are in pretty good shape," he said with a grin.

Narcotics Charge

Dennis Philip Tsigelatos, 20, of San Quentin Village, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of possessing marijuana Saturday at a San Rafael bowling alley. His case was continued until today for entry of plea.

LBJ Attacks Drug Prices In New Health Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has called for a clampdown on drug prices, reducing the infant mortality rate and making available birth-control devices or drugs to three million American women.

The president told Congress yesterday his new health proposals would cost $15.6 billion, an increase of about $1.6 billion over the program for the current fiscal year.

Johnson requested authority to limit government payments for drugs to what he termed a reasonable cost. These purchases are principally for the medicare and medicaid programs and welfare operations.

Recent Senate hearings have focused on substantial differences in the prices charged by various firms for the same drug. Prices are generally cheaper for drugs sold under their chemical or generic names, rather than brand names.

Sources said Johnson's proposal may indicate the administration is confident that current federal studies will conclude that generic drugs perform as well as, are as safe as brand names.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., who guided the bill boosting Social Security benefits through enactment last year, said Johnson's request "will take us a long stride in the direction of reducing exorbitant prices for drugs."

He asked for a $25 million hike, to $61 million, in funds to make family planning information and birth-control devices or drugs available to three million poor women "if they so desire."

Seattle was named for an Indian chief who was friendly to the first explorers in what is now Washington State.

Marin Physicians In Select Group

Two Marin physicians have been elected to fellowship in the American College of Physicians and five have been elected associate members.

Elected as fellows were Dr. Kenneth L. Melmon of San Rafael and Dr. John J. Deller Jr. of Novato, a lieutenant colonel with the Army Medical Corps at Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco.

Elected as associates were Dr. Hillel S. Abel, Greenbrae, Dr. Vincent W. Hoversten and Dr. Filmore S. Rodich, both of San Rafael, Dr. Edward A. McCrum, Kentfield, and Dr. Irenaeus Tucker, Mill Valley.

Pound Drops Again; An Urgency For Gold

LONDON (AP) — The British pound dropped to a new low today as demand for gold continued high.

At the opening of the London money market, the pound was quoted at $2.3975, 33 points below yesterday's high. The closing price yesterday was $2.3997, nine points below Friday's level, after a high for the day of $2.4008 in the afternoon.

The Bank of England stepped in almost at the opening today to support the pound and the rate rose to $2.39855.

The dollar parity price for gold at the daily fixing remained just under the ceiling at $35.19-7/8.

An estimated 25-35 tons changed hands at the fixing, and subsequent sales were expected to raise the day's total on the London market to 50 tons, equaling Friday's mark but far below the crisis level last December.

Both the pound and the dollar continued under heavy attack on continental exchanges.

A determined bid appeared to be getting under way to force the United States to raise the gold price of $35 dollar an ounce it is committed to maintain. This in effect would be a devaluation of the dollar.

The Daily Telegraph said editorially: "The United States government will have to do something drastic fairly soon unless the speculative buying of gold ceases, which is highly improbable."

The Financial Times said the rush into gold, silver, platinum or gold stocks showed speculators and the general public are not convinced that Washington can keep the price of gold down.

Volunteers' New Opportunity

Last of two articles on the trials and growing opportunities of the volunteer.

By BARBARA HOSMER

Having examined some of the problems which may occur in volunteer situations, it is important to realize the widening scope of opportunity for the volunteer to give his skills and receive satisfaction in return.

Every time you give a neighbor a lift to the store, help lead a Cub Scout den, arrange a program for your church group or model in a benefit fashion show, you are a volunteer.

You perform a service for others, sometimes for persons you don't know or will never meet. Large numbers of Marinites — men, women and youngsters — are volunteering hours and days each week in a variety of ways. Virtually everyone doing a non-paid job for someone else is a volunteer.

Today the horizons for volunteer opportunity are broadening rapidly, so that the volunteer can find a useful place to contribute service with gratifying returns. Increasingly volunteers are taking on more of the tasks that might not otherwise be performed for the community.

THEY ARE serving as school volunteers aiding the classroom teacher; they are assisting professionals in social work; they are surveying employment needs, community resources; they are tutoring; they are teaching nutrition to improve family health; they are visiting the aged and ill; they are staging cultural events; teaching grooming, providing comfort and companionship to patients, teaching cooking and sewing, helping the handicapped children enjoy recreation . . . the list is long.

With the imaginative, broadening use of volunteer help, the volunteer is finding service work that provides him, or her, chances to use his own personal skills, provides a learning experience, and the companionship of working with other people on a project.

By performing such service, the volunteer becomes more aware of his community's concerns and the needs of the people who live around him.

As the range of volunteer opportunity has widened so has the spectrum of people who seek to perform these jobs. More youngsters and teen-agers are helping, the retired person and senior citizen are finding useful service work; the ill person on welfare feels he can do some needed job for the community, perhaps from his home; and the business person would like to contribute a few hours after work and on weekends.

Yet, the majority of volunteers are the young and middle-aged housewives who find the time to do consistent work in organizations and with individuals who need their help.

Professionals who direct volunteers find it exciting and gratifying to see them take up a challenge and enjoy doing needed jobs out of sheer interest and real concern with the result.

BUT TODAY'S volunteer may seek and find other benefits as well. As executive director of the Volunteer Bureau of Marin, which refers and places people in a variety of service jobs throughout the county, Mrs. Marion Kelley has seen significant changes in the reasons persons seek volunteer work. Their motives are several, she says.

"Some women are planning to return to full-time paid careers and are testing out job areas. Others are teen-agers trying possible career fields through volunteer work," she said. "Last summer some teen-agers worked as case work aides, putting them in touch with the social service field, for instance."

The younger woman may want volunteer work that will allow her to find some adult relationships outside the home for a few hours a week, she said.

"Other married women who have young families are unsure whether they will want to go back to school eventually to work toward a professional career. They may want the background and preparation in their field of study to keep them sharp until they can go back to college. They often want in-the-office experience," Mrs. Kelley explained.

By far the largest group which performs volunteer work in Marin consists of the middle-aged woman whose children are old enough not to need them full time at home.

"MANY HAVE worked, but not for years. Some are scared and need the confidence that they can be valuable in the community. Over half we see at the bureau are hopeful of getting a paid job eventually," Mrs. Kelley said. Through volunteer work they become active in the community, regain confidence and also perform needed work.

And Marin is getting a small new group of volunteers — people who are on welfare for medical reasons or lack of skills, who want to do what they can.

"These are some of our very best volunteers," Mrs. Kelley says. "They can only work a few hours a day, but they type and do short-term jobs."

Men come too, she said, but are very hard to place. They've sat on committees for years and want a change, yet it's hard for them to put themselves in a different kind of role than they're used to, she said.

One man, however, comes two days a week to teach his avocation, carpentry, at Marindale School. Another works at nursery schools as handyman and substitute "grandfather," she points out.

"We must have loads of men who could work with young people who need a male image," Mrs. Kelley remarked.

Teen-agers? "They are fabulous," she says. "The kids are raring to go and want to participate in the community."

The Switchboard operation is an example of what they can do, she said. And at Marindale last summer more than 100 teen-agers volunteered and took the special training they needed to work with the handicapped and brain-damaged children. Many are high school boys.

Senior citizens have been busy setting up programs for their own organizations and are now beginning to move out do volunteer visiting at convalescent hospitals or take on serving projects.

OPPORTUNITY AREAS for all the ranges of volunteer are developing, some more quickly than others. School volunteers are being used in Marin classrooms now, and other areas are trying imaginative programs to allow qualified volunteers lead discussion groups following up a team-teaching project, for example.

Volunteers are being used in the Marin Head Start program, teaching nutrition to parents, and others are beginning to be used to survey employment opportunities for the Office of Economic Opprotunity, Mrs. Kelley said.

Often volunteers doing specialized jobs already have a degree in the subject and are delighted to be able to use their university training, she pointed out.

This kind of already-qualified volunteer is being depended upon by the Planned Parenthood Association to help run its clinics — all its nurses are volunteers.

Some volunteers have been doing music and dance therapy at Napa State Hospital. Others have been teaching cooking, sewing and interior decorating to unwed mothers.

Many of the men's groups take on volunteer projects. As an example, several men work each week directly with Juvenile Hall boys, talk with them, play games, do craft projects, and some have taken them camping.

THIS KIND OF one-to-one relationship of working directly with an individual is especially suited to some volunteers.

Currently a high school group are assisting a blind girl to "discover her life" in the world she can't see by taking her to activities. Such volunteering requires specialized people, Mrs. Kelly points out.

There is pre-career training available to teen-age girl volunteers far more readily than for boys, she says, although boys have been working excellently with the handicapped in Marin. Teen-agers also have been used as therapist aides in the handicapped children's recreation program and at the Children's

Exciting Tales In Race To Acapulco

By MOLLY MARIN

Mrs. Emmet L. Rixford of Sausalito, who flew down on Feb. 13, to Acapulco to meet her husband at the finish of his race from San Diego in their sailboat, the "Annie Too," has returned and is telling friends of some incredibly exciting experiences. Dr. Rixford and their younger son, Chuck, started the race from San Diego on Feb. 4. Mrs. Rixford and Chuck's wife Diana met them on Feb. 17 at the conclusion of the very disappointing race which was won by the "Kialoa."

THE "ANNIE TOO" had been one of 19 out of 29 boats forced to turn on their motors because of very calm weather. "The very night we arrived in Acapulco," Mrs. Rixford said, "the worst storm hit that they had since records were kept. Fortunately my husband had moored the 'Annie Too' inside the breakwater so that it wasn't damaged the way many of the other boats were, but when we began the return trip by way of Mazatlan, we got into the most terrifying storm I have ever seen. The boat would crash down from a high wave into a trough and shudder until we thought it would split. The motor went out and they couldn't get the sails up, but on a last attempt my husband was able to fix the motor. I never expect to be so frightened again the rest of my life."

After several stops including one at San Pablo, they arrived at Mazatlan and Mrs. Rixford with Chuck and Diana flew home from there. Dr. Rixford and another man are on their way to La Paz, where they will be joined by the Rixfords' older son, Emmet Jr., or Rix, and his wife Helen for a cruise in the Sea of Cortez for a couple of weeks.

MR. AND MRS. Walter Bogel of Tiburon have returned from a three-week trip to Mexico. They flew to Oaxaca, visiting the ruins of Monte Alban, Mitla, Yagul and two other sites under exploration by archeologists. The Bogels went to Mexico City, rented a car and traveled almost 2,000 miles. A highight of this tour was visiting an opal mine near Queretaro. Just before leaving for Mexico, the Bogels gave a family dinner honoring their son, Shephen, and his fiance, Carolyn Josephs. Carolyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kerr of Richmond.

MRS. ERNEST MORCK, who has just returned to Sausalito with her son, Robert Wilson Morck, from 38 days in Africa, says that the safaris were very exciting but so rugged that she wouldn't dream of trying the venture again. Leaving on Jan. 17, they flew to Africa and traveled by Land Rover over rough, dusty country where at times there were no roads at all. "In the Ngorongoro Crater we saw all kinds of wild life," she said. "It was easy to find lions from the vultures hovering over their kills, and we could go within a few feet of them while they were eating without it seeming to disturb them. Of course, we weren't allowed to get out of the vehicles. We were surprised to find that one lion had been able to kill a giraffe. We also saw many animals at the the famous Treetop Inn and on the way up the Nile to Murchison Falls we saw hundreds of hippopotamus, elephants and crocodiles."

ONE OF her most interesting experiences, Mrs. Morck said, was visiting the gold mines at Johannesburg and watching the mine dancers, natives working there who put on tribal dances every Sunday. In the big cities, she said, she was surprised at the great modern universities and buildings and at the gorgeous gardens made possible by cheap labor. From Capetown she and her son went to Addis Ababa and from there to Athens, Greece, which she said has become a tremendous city in size. They flew home by way of Paris.

A YOUNG PUPPY at Guide Dogs for the Blind in San Rafael seemingly can't wait to grow into his white plastic raincoat which is made for "graduating seniors" such as Tommie by Mrs. Graham Pearson of San Mateo. Mrs. Pearson has been the personal tailor at the Guide Dogs School for more than 20 years.

Guide Dogs Stay Dry In Chic Raincoats

For more than 20 years now the graduating canines of Guide Dogs for the Blind have had their own custom tailor in the person of Mrs. Graham Pearson of San Mateo who presents them with stylish white plastic raincoats.

The modest vounteer comes to San Rafael during each Guide Dogs training session to take measurements in order that the raincoats will be ready by graduation.

The school raincoat was born during World War II when Mrs. Pearson was a member of the Army Sewing Unit for the American Women's Voluntary Services on Treasure Island. Adopting a design used by the Canine Corps, Mrs. Pearson designed a coat for a Marine officer's bulldog which was the local platoon's official mascot.

News of the raincoat caught the attention of Mrs. Walter S. Heller, then president of Guide Dogs for The Blind, who investigated their production for Guide Dog use.

Mrs. Pearson was in charge of the group of women who made curtains for the new dormitory when the school moved from Los Gatos to San Rafael in 1947. The first classes to graduate from Guide Dogs that year all received Pearson-made raincoats.

The white plastic raincoats, which have an adjustable buckle, may be ordered by any graduate or student in training for $1.75 which covers the cost of the materials.

A member of the Garden Study Club of the Peninsula, Mrs. Pearson's newest project for the Guide Dogs School is planning an herb garden. However, she will continue to send the Guide Dogs on their way stylishly dry in their chic raincoats.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Use Imagination, Get Initiative, Wash A Jet Plane To Earn Money

DEAR HELEN:

Adults keep saying, "Use imagination." "Get initiative earn your own money."

But when we try something different, we get shot down.

All we wanted to do was wash a big jet airliner.

But no, the union wouldn't let us. It was, "Go back to car washes and candy sales, kids, and don't get wild ideas."

You don't earn enough money to take 10 kids to an important conference unless you come up with wild ideas. We could have chartered a bus with the money we earned washing a jet.

Helen, how about asking your YAFI readers to write in about the most successful fund-raising projects at their school, and how they managed them?

— CLIPPED WINGS

DEAR C. W.:

How about it kids? Your ideas for fund-raising should make a good column, but I'll bet none even comes close to the one that got shot down. Jet-washing! Now that's what I call class! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Please, would you tell these straight-faced, down-in-the-dumps store clerks that customers don't appreciate them? I hate to walk up to a check-out counter and not even get a smile, or search out a salesgirl and then have her act as if she's doing me a big favor, noticing I'm alive.

They act a lot worse with teen-agers than with adults. In some stores we're treated like dirt, as if we were all either shoplifters or vandals.

I work summers as a salesgirl, and I know how often a smile and real interest will bring people back to the store. I'm not bragging, but I'm friendly. Many of the customers ask for me specially. I feel kind of rewarded. It's a challenge, getting folks to respond and finding how human they are.

It's a shame that managers can't measure another kind of I.Q. when they hire, interest quotient. — GOOD-NATURED.

DEAR G. N.:

Managers who are astute enough to measure interest quotient hire clerks who keep their businesses prospering. Too bad a few people-haters slip through, but they don't last long in modern stores. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm going with a guy who is very kind and sweet. But my problem is:

How can I tell him to brush his teeth more often without making him mad at me? — BOTHERED

DEAR BOTHERED:

You can't ask a boy to brush, without risking a brush-off. But, if you can't stand him as is, what have you got to lose? Tell him his smile might make the toothpaste ads if he'd only use the product. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am a college freshman on a scholarship which pays all my tuition. I live at home, but buy my own meals at college and pay for my clothes and other expenses from what I earn each summer.

All my folks furnish is the use of their car to get to classes, and $5 a week for gas. My folks aren't hurting for money, but the way my mother squirms at the thought of giving me $5 a week, you'd think they were dead broke. Is this too much to ask? My budget won't stretch any farther.—SON OF A PINCH PENNY

DEAR SON:

I haven't heard both sides, but from here it appears that your folks are getting off mighty easy. College often costs parents $3,000 a year. —H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

VOLUNTEER

Center in Novato.

A new kind of volunteer job that can provide insight into social work fields is that of sitting in on case conferences to take notes and aid the caseworkers, Mrs. Kewley pointed out.

Persons interested in writing may find jobs, too. Dominican girls have been writing histories of longtime Marin residents for the Marin Historical Society, for example.

Other college students helped set up the Senior Forum, an example of chances for young people to become interested in the lives of their elders.

Another example of the new uses of the volunteer in a one-to-one service relationship is that of the casework aide, who is assigned to a returned state hospital patient to act as a friend and companion, to accompany him to a job interview, show him how to use a laundromat, go to a church outing with him — generally to get him over the first hurdles of having to do things alone after being institutionalized perhaps for years. This kind of volunteer is being used through requests from the Bureau of Social Work, California State Dept. of Mental Hygiene.

"Sometimes the need is for a volunteer to help a caseworker by running errands — picking up a wheelchair for delivery to someone — just checking with a person being helped to see if he has any problems, taking him somewhere, going to his home and chatting about meal planning and then taking him shopping. . ." Mrs. Kelley explained.

The work of organizations in volunteer projects has been well known through the years in Marin, cataloged almost daily by newspaper stories on in-service work in hospitals, youth programs, fund-raising and the myraid ways in which Marin people help each other and volunteer in service programs throughout the Bay Area.

WHAT IS NEW is the provision of more inventive uses of the special skills each volunteer or group may have, whether it be tutoring requiring special knowledge, or simply a broad liking for people.

At* SUSAN'S I noticed what must be the perfect all-weather and all-season coat. This gem, with smart off-center closing and neatly rolled collar has tiny stripes in shades of brown with black and white . . . stunning!

Lots of happy planning is going on now for summer weddings. To keep this planning happy, I suggest a consulation with Master Chef, Louis Reimers, at L'ENTREE. Louis' very complete catering service will relieve Mother of panicky reception planning and assure that all will run smoothly. Nice to know, too, that L'ENTREE never turns up their nose at small, at-home receptions . . . and are equally adept at handling the grand and glorious size as well.

Any hostess would love to receive (and/or, use) the new Marly bubble bath and soap puffs from THE GOLDEN CHERUB. Of course, the product is excellent but, in this case, the containers tell the style story . . . sprightly polka dots of white with black, blue or gold. This is only one of the many items at this charming bath boutique that brings designer color and style to the once drab bath.

Rudi Gernreich's spring collection is shining brightly at LAILA of Nasimo's, along with other famous designer labels. Noticed a stunning coat-dress with the Joan Leslie label . . . this is of a silk and wool blend in a soft gray shade sparked with white linen collar and cuffs. For fashion with a zany flair, LAILA offers a bold black and white printed vinyl cape and skirt worn with a prettily ruffled yellow blouse. Great fun and not half bad either if you get caught in the rain.

Chris Gartman, genial host at The HICK'RY PIT, tells me he is featuring a very special Lenten luncheon on Wednesdays and Fridays . . . filet of Maine Cod for $1.15. Another timely special here will be Corned beef and Cabbage around St. Pat's Day. The HICK'RY PIT is truly a something-for-everyone restaurant with an informal family atmosphere, good service and great food.

Great day in the mornin' . . . ! VILLAGE LIQUORS stocks not only Irish Whiskey but Irish Gin too. If, like so many of us, you turn into an honorary Irishman this month it's nice to know you needn't suddenly acquire a taste for Irish Whiskey . . . the green olive in your martini will do nicely. This selection isn't really surprising since VILLAGE LIQUORS consistently stocks just about any potable you could imagine.

Must be about time for "the wearin' of the green" according to ROJEAN'S CARD & PARTY SHOP. They have all sorts of appropriate paper party items for St. Patrick's Day . . . even shiny little shamrock pins for the lapel (or for party favors).

New owner of VILLAGE JEWELERS, Mrs. Mildred Cates, has instigated a romantic treat for starry-eyed couples who purchase her diamond wedding sets . . . she "springs" for an intime dinner for two at Inn Marin. Another noteworthy "instigation" is Mrs. Cates' associate, Mr. Richard Humphrey. This talented gentleman is not only a fine watchmaker but manufactures jewelry as well. From what I've seen, his work is really exceptional.

When all four feet are tripping through spring rain puddles, one simply must be wearing a lightweight spring raincoat from MUTTS OF MARIN . . . boots to match, natch!

CAPT. DALE E. NOYD
Opposes Vietnam war

Pilot Faces Anti-Vietnam Stand Trial

CLOVIS, N. M. (UPI)—Dale E. Noyd, a veteran fighter pilot refused permission by the Air Force to resign his commission and denied status as a conscientious objector, today faced a court martial for disobeying an order to train pilots for combat in Vietnam.

Noyd, a captain who has served 12 years in the Air Force, was specifically charged with willful disobedience of a lawful order for refusing to train Vietnam-bound fighter pilots. He faces a maximum prison sentence of five years.

Noyd, 34, will not be tried on his philosophy, which he describes as religious humanist rather than pacifist, but on his alleged disobedience. The trial is at Cannon Air Force Base.

PRO-NATO

Noyd has said he would fly in NATO forces, as he has done, or fight if he believed the United States was perilled. But he has declared himself against the Vietnam war, and insisted he would not fight there or train others to do so.

Noyd asked to resign his commission rather than be involved in the war effort. The Air Force turned him down. He then sought status as a conscientious objector, asking to be assigned noncombat duties. This request was refused by a federal court.

Noyd has attempted to gain conscientious objector classification since last April. He was expected at the trial to again plead for noncombat duty or release from the service.

SPECIFIC CHARGE

He is specifically charged with refusal to obey an order last Dec. 5 to instruct a student pilot in a routine F100 jet fighter training mission. He said he disobeyed the order because he did not want anything to help the Vietnam war effort.

Noyd, a native of Wenatchee, Wash., began his legal action against the Air Force last April when he was ordered to duty at Cannon AFB as a fighter pilot instructor. He said he wanted to be classed as a conscientious objector not because he opposed all wars, but because he believed the Vietnam war immoral.

Before the transfer order, he was an assistant professor of psychology at the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Anti-Mexican Bias Challenge

SAN JOSE (AP) — A New Mexico land reformer says an upsurge of militancy has occurred in the nation's Mexican-American communities.

Reies Tijerina said the time will soon be past when Mexican Americans "suffer silently injustice and discrimination."

"The Anglo society has told us that crime doesn't pay," Tijerina told an audience of 600 in San Jose State's Morris Dailey auditorium. "Now Uncle Sam is going to learn that the crimes committed against us do not pay."

Charles Greenfield is president of Marin Recorder Society.

Dynamite In Mail Puzzles San Francisco Detectives

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police sought a motive today for the mailing of single sticks of dynamite to at least four San Francisco addresses and possibly five others.

The high-strength, 10-inch long sticks of dynamite were each wrapped in pink paper and accompanied by a carbon copy of an incoherent note warning that nine had been mailed.

Four sticks were recovered over the weekend and no explosions occurred.

Although there were no fuses or caps, police criminologist John Williams say the dynamite could be exploded by a sharp blow from a hammer, by being dropped from a height or put in a fire.

The rambling note advised the "finder of this gift to notify the mayor, police and all newspapers, as the gifts number nine and their strategic locations are known by all."

The first stick was discovered Saturday in the mail box of St. Agnes Convent. Later that day another turned up at a private home and a third in the postal room at Rincon Annex. The fourth stick was found Sunday night in the mailbox of another private home.

Police said they believed the dynamite may have been stolen from a BART project or from a recent burglary of an Oakland construction job.

Men Eat Out

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Restaurants, drug stores and other commercial eating places in the United States now serve about $22 billion worth of food a year — and most of their customers are men, according to the Agriculture Department.

Minuteman Boss Sought In Blast, Robbery Plot

SEATTLE (AP) — The founder of The Minutemen and one of his top aides were hunted by the FBI today after being indicted in a plot to blow up a police station and power plant as a diversion for bank robbery.

Secret federal grand jury indictments reiurned Feb. 20 against Robert Bolivar DePugh, founder and head of the paramilitary organization, and Walter Patrick Peyson, 24, were made public yesterday by U.S. District Judge William T. Beeks.

The 44-year-old De Pugh and Peyson, both of Norborne, Mo., were charged with conspiracy in plans to blow up the police station and power station in nearby Redmond before robbing three banks there and another bank in suburban Des Moines.

The FBI said the plot was not carried out because an inside tip resulted in the arrest of seven other men here Jan. 26, the day the alleged plans were to go into effect.

House Entered

Someone entered his house between Feb. 26 and yesterday and took a $5 roll of quarters and a can of beer, Kenneth L. Lopes, 36, of 4 Surf Way, Novato, reported yesterday to police.

Copper Strike Talks Resume

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Under prodding by President Johnson, union and management negotiators resumed talks today to try to resolve the national copper strike.

There was no indication that, in spite of White House pressure to end the seven-and-one-half month strike, a solution would be reached soon. But at least union and management officials were talking, whereas there had been barely any exchanges since the strike started last July 15.

Johnson summoned representatives of the four major copper companies and various unions involved to the White House yesterday to urge them to enter into intensive, round-the-clock bargaining, if necessary, to end the strike.

The first proposals in the plan to develop Jordan's Red Sea port of Aqaba into a great resort city by the year 2000 are now being completed.

JACKIE ROBINSON JR.
Ex-GI in trouble

Robinson's Son Hears Dope Charge

STAMFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Circuit Court judge has ordered the 21-year-old son of Jackie Robinson, first Negro major league baseball player, to appear next Monday on gun and drug charges.

Jack R. Robinson Jr., 21, of Stamford, was arraigned yesterday.

Police said Robinson was carrying several glasine bags of heroin, a tobacco pouch of marijuana and a 22-caliber pistol when he was arrested on a Stamford street corner.

The youth, an unemployed high school dropout, was released on $5,000 bond posted by his father, the former Brooklyn Dodger star.

Young Robinson returned last June from military service in Vietnam and shortly after moved out of the family's $125,000 estate. Robinson said his son left to "think things out."

The elder Robinson, 49, is Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's special assistant for community affairs and also board chairman of the Freedom National Bank in Harlem. He is a member of baseball's Hall of Fame.

The youth dropped out of high school in Stamford at 17 and joined the Army. His father said his son began using narcotics during the year he was in Vietnam.

Forgery Charge Jail Sentence

Kenneth Ray Williams, 34, of Oakland, was sentenced in Marin Superior Court yesterday to six months in county jail for forging a $156.92 check against the account of Cement Masons Union Local 580 and trying to cash it Dec. 2 at the Stop and Go Market on Second Street in Sausalito.

Judge Harold J. Haley placed Williams on probation for three years, despite an argument by Dist. Att. Bruce B. Bales that he should go to prison for the offense.

Williams was allegedly part of a gang which stole payroll checks and cashed them about the Bay Area, Bales said. The check he tried to cash was stolen in a safe from the union, Bales said.

ART REVIEW

Society Producing New Group Shows

By LAURA DEVENDORF

In hopes of presenting more of members' works, the Marin Society of Artists is offering an unusual number of unjuried or loosely juried shows this year. As a result, it was also hoped that the few remaining tightly-juried shows would be of stronger quality.

So far, the idea is working. The first of the restrictive juried exhibits, the All Media Show through March 24 at the Ross Art and Garden Center, is one that while still including a little of everything, does so at a much higher level than MSA's usual group fare.

Being an all media show, it includes paintings, drawings, prints, stitchery, jewelry, ceramics and sculpture with a good balance in all media. And a rundown of the winners reflects that spread.

Gwen Stone's first award collage is a stunning bit of bright geometry, its theme extending from the red and blue shapes through the many-leveled, painted frame. A purple, orange and white stitchery, the second award by Gayle Luchessa, shows a thoughtful use of colored yarn presented like a textured abstract painting.

The third award "Box," by Leah Schwartz, is a many-sectioned, black, wall-hung sculpture in which tiny white plastic figures and yellowed press photos combine in a provocative life drama. And as gently suggestive as the "Box" is stark, the first honorable mention by John Lynch, is a lyrical collage of shapes cut from monoprints.

Another mention was given Jon Caver for a warmly decorative wall cabinet covered with panels painted with a strong Mexican flavor. It is also studded with doors which open onto encrusted interiors, thick with gems and wire-wrapped dangling stones.

The final mention went to the lone painted painting in the group, "Sunrise," by Inez Storer, in which rust-orange and metallic orbs float in thickened whites and layers of darkness.

All of these are artists' art, imaginative ideas expressed in highly personal ways. It's the stuff by which prizes are won and the list of the worthy extends beyond the winners mentioned. Although some seem pallid compared to the standouts, most relate to the idea that a strong work is an individualized combination of media usage and artist concept.

Assembled as a group, it doesn't add up to a show that looks very systematic. But it does create one that is often striking, at times inspiring, when taken piece by piece.

Magazine Does Mount Tam Story

A five-page article, including color photos, tells motorists of the mountain's attractions.

There also is an article about testing a sport's car on Marin's scenic roads, which tells of a drive along such roads as Panoramic Highway, Shoreline Highway and Ridgecrest Boulevard.

Stealing Of Purse Foils A Disguise

LONDON (AP) — A 22-year-old British girl who disguised herself as an airman and spent two months on an American air base in Britain was sent to jail for six months yesterday for stealing a purse from a club on the base.

Sheila Ward lived in a barracks on the base at Lakenheath to be with her boy friend.

Fair/Marin Backs Idea On Culture

A proposal for a series of "cultural exchanges" between diverse groups within the county won the endorsement of about 40 members of Fair/Marin Inc. at a meeting last night at Civic Center.

Fred F. Enemark, Fair/Marin board chairman, explained that the Marin Museum Association, for example, might entertain a boys's group or a senior citizens' group, and vice versa. The program, entitled "Showcase Fair/Marin," would involve a series of these cultural exchanges throughout the year.

Several of these could be filmed for a one-hour television program and presented as a demonstration of how diverse cultural and recreational groups can exchange ideas and talents with each other, Enemark said.

Mrs. T. J. (Lotte) McWatters Jr. of the museum association is chairman of the committee working on "Showcase Fair/Marin."

The group also recommended that two more organizations be admitted to membership in Fair/Marin, which will operate the Veterans' Memorial Auditorium and the fair grounds at Civic Center. The two are the Marin County Folk Dance group and the Daughters of the American Revolution. Sixty-eight organizations are already members.

Krips Outlines Japanese Tour

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

SAN FRANCISCO — Opening the 11th Osaka International Festival on April 11 in Japan will be the first event on the first overseas tour of the San Francisco Symphony. In 16 days it will perform 12 concerts in six Japanese cities.

Josef Krips, conductor and music director of the orchestra, announced tour plans and programs at a special press luncheon yesterday in the Miyako Hotel in the new Japanese Cultural and Trade Center in San Francisco. The Japanese Consul General Seiichi Shima was guest of honor.

Krips said he will take 104 musicians on this tour, for which transportation is being paid by the City of San Francisco, and noted that this is the first time an American City has sent a major orchestra to a foreign country.

The maestro said that opening the festival in Osaka, which is San Francisco's sister city, is a great honor, since it is a famous festival comparable to that of Salzburg in Europe. Other cities on the tour will be Hiroshima, Nagoya, Nagano, Chiga and Tokyo.

"Japan loves Western music," Krips said. "We will give the best we can of our Western music, and we will be eager to learn about Japanese music and composers. Music is an international language — music performed from the heart is understood all over the world and is the best bridge between peoples."

The programs have been made up in conjuction with the directors of the Osaka festival and stress German music by request.

"This is what they like," Krips explained. "It isn't entirely what we would have wanted, but we had to follow instructions, and I still think they are very good programs."

Composers represented are Weber, Haydn, Strauss, Brahms, Wagner, Bruckner, Mozart and Beethoven as well as Tschaikosky, Stravinsky and Takemitsu.

Krips said he expects to bring back a Japanese work for inclusion in the gala welcome-home concert on May 2 at 9 p.m. in the Opera House.

The Marin 8 regular series program in San Francisco will be recorded and broadcast by the Voice of America to Japan as a "Salute to Osaka."

Town Councilmen Vote Selves Pay

Councilmen of the Town of Corte Madera last night gave themselves a salary of $150 each a month.

The unanimous vote came on motion of Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, who presented a letter declaring the salary is justified because of the "staggering" council work load. (See also Corte Madera stories, page 1.)

The demands made of councilmen "is a strong indication that remuneration should be given so that the community would benefit from full participation by the councilman," he said. "Serving his community should in no way impose a hardship on a person . . . Capable people are competed for and if financial assistance could tip the scale in favor of the community, we all would gain," he said.

Colthurst, who has served 12 years on the council, said he probably will retire from the council when his term expires in 1970 and that he feels "no embarrassment or hesitancy" in making the motion.

Legislation permits a council to give itself salaries without the public's vote. The salary is based on population, with $150 monthly maximum in cities of 5,000 to 35,000 residents. Corte Madera has 8,200 residents at the last census; its councilmen have served without pay.

The council scheduled an adjourned meeting for 7:30 p.m. March 14 at Town Hall for the second and final reading of the ordinance granting the salaries, which would become effective in 30 days, just prior to April 16 seating of new councilmen following the April 9 election.

Parks System Plan On Agenda

A preliminary plan for a system of parks on the Tiburon peninsula will be presented Thursday to the Tiburon Parks and Recreation commission.

The commission meets at 8 p.m. in City Hall.

Committee members George Ellman, David H. Teather and Allan Thompson have been "hiking, exploring and analyzing to prepare the proposal, according to Mrs. Polly D. Smith, chairman.

Child's Death Prompts Fence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A fence will be built around a construction site where John Sandoval, 6, was hit by a truck and killed.

A group of Mexican-Americans, including the child's parents, demonstrated at City Hall following the accident.

Later, Vernon Kaufman, a special assistant to the mayor, drew up an agreement with the contractor for the fence.

Corte Madera Sanitary Merger On LAFC Agenda

A proposed merger of the Town of Corte Madera and Sanitary District No. 2 (Corte Madera sanitary district) will get a hearing Thursday night before the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission.

The commission will meet at 7:30 p.m., Thursday in the board of supervisors' chambers at Civic Center.

Sanitary District No. 2 covers all the developed areas of Corte Madera, some unincorpoarted areas and portions of the cities of Larkspur and Tiburon.

The Corte Madera Town Council wants either a merger with the sanitary district or establishment of the sanitary district as a subsidiary of the Town of Corte Madera.

A resolution by Corte Madera councilman says that one reason for the proposal is "to reduce the overlapping of governmental agencies serving essentially the same people."

Other proposed annexations on the agenda of the Local Agnecy Formation Commission include there:

1. Proposed annexation of 30 acres of open land on Trumbull Avenue near Mill Road to Novato Sanitary District No. 6.
2. Annexation of 21 acres of Melvin Swig's property on the north side of Lucas Valley Road, opposite Mount McKinley Road, to County Service Area No. 13.
3. Annexation of three and one-half acres between Los Ranchitos Road and the railroad tracks in Los Ranchitos to Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.
4. Annexation of 685 acres, owned by Cypress Point Associates, on the west side of Tomales Bay near Marshall to North Marin County Water District.
5. Annexation of a 9,000-square-foot lot owned by Frances H. McQuiston on Mar East, Tiburon, to Tiburon Sanitary District No. 5.

Teen Center Debated, Rec Budget Adopted

Approval of a 1968-69 parks and recreation budget of about $6,500 was given last night by the Corte Madera Town Council.

The council also approved in concept a proposed teen center, but made no promises pending further study of the needs for a center, and whether one should be rented or acquired permanently.

Approved were a summer program costing $2,956; sponsors for teens, $1,140; saturday athletics at San Clemente School, $250; and a new program of weekend recreation at Town Park, costing $520 if one program worker is used, and $1,040 if two are used. Cost of personnel for any teen center would be about $1,560 for the year.

Current budget is $6,100.

The approval came after discussions by Jack Southerland and Merritt J. Wieder, parks and recreation commissioners, on needs of a teen center. It was suggested that a building owned, used for storage at Town Park could be used.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst and Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher declared they are against any temporary arrangement if it can be avoided. Robert C. Bundy, recreation director, said search fo another adequate building has been unsuccessful.

The Corte Madera twon council also:

The area involves four houses and would bring into the town limits all the remaining privately owned tidelands in Corte Madera Bay. The annexation has received Local Agency Formation Commission approval.

$8.8 Million For Pay Hikes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The board of supervisors has voted pay increases totaling $8.8 million dollars for 13,482 miscellaneous city employees.

The category includes all but policemen, firemen, Municipal Railway operators and skilled craftsmen.

The salary boosts range from 5 to 21 per cent.

Ross Trustees Delay On Pay

Ross School District trustees delayed action last night on a 5 per cent pay increase requested by the district's 29 teachers. The trustees decided to wait until they have a look at the budget for next school year.

Supt. Robert D. Gowan said next year's needs probably will include addition of second and a fourth grade treachers.

Brothers' Scuffling Puts Both In Jail

A deputy district attorney, sheriff's bailiff and two San Quentin guards battled two Pennsylvania brothers in a sudden scuffle in a Marin County Courthouse corridor yesterday.

The brothers, facing misdemeanor charges before the fracas began, were rebooked on suspicion of a variety of felony and misdemeanor charges.

Bailiff Arthur Wiggins of the sheriff's office, first to be involved in the melee, gave this report today:

Andrew Lee Charnes, 18, of Elkins Park, Penn., was in Municipal Court after his arrest earlier in the day for shoplifting at the Food Villa in Fairfax.

He pleaded guilty to the charge and was given a suspended five-day jail sentence and six months of probation by Judge Hadden W. Roth.

While court was still in session, his brother, Alan Bruce Charnes, 21, of the same city, talked to Andrew and was arrested for communicating with a prisoner.

Wiggins took the two men to the elevator which would carry them down to the jail. He noticed Alan Charnes was holding a plastic bag in his hand and asked for it.

Alan stuffed the bag into his mouth and started chewing, according to Wiggins. The bailiff jumped him and tried to retrieve the bag.

While Wiggins and Alan scuffled on the floor, Andrew allegedly tried to join the battle and was knocked back when Wiggins threw a roundhouse right and connected with his face.

Alen then threw the plastic bag to his brother and said: "Run man!," according to Wiggins.

DOWN THE STAIRS

Andrew dashed down the stairs with Wiggins in pursuit, and ran headlong into two San Quentin Prison guards.

Upstairs, Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua Thomas, emerging from court, saw that Alan was free and grappled with him until relieved by other bailiffs.

The brothers were subdued and taken downstairs for booking at the jail. Wiggins said the plastic bag apparently contained marijuana.

More suspected marijuana was found in Alan's pockets when he was searched at the jail, Wiggins said.

ATTEMPTED ESCAPE

Andrew Charnes was rebooked on charges of attempted escape, striking a police officer, possessing marijuana, assault and battery and obstructing a police officer.

Alan Charnes was booked for suspicion of possessing marijuana, striking a police officer, assault and battery, and obstructing a police officer.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Superior Court set bail at $3,750 for each man. They were to appear again today in Municipal Court.

Sterling Hayden's Son Burns Draft Induction Papers

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The 19-year-old son of Sterling Hayden, the actor who won a Silver Star for heroism during World War II, today burned his draft induction papers during a demonstration against the Vietnam war and the Selective Service System.

Christian Hayden said he would refuse induction into the Armed Forces and expects to go to jail for his stand.

Grocery Chains Deny Meat Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The nation's three largest grocery chains filed a blanket denial in U.S. District court today of charges that they conspired to fix meat prices.

Seven Colorado and Northern California livestock raisers made the charges Jan. 17 in an antitrust suit asking unspecified treble damages.

Denials were filed by Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., New York; Safeway Stores, Inc. Oakland; and Korger Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Delegate To Plea Novato Base Funds

Novato Unified School District trustees last night voted to send Deputy Supt. Ralph Giovanniello to Washington, D.C., to protest a proposed cut in federal funds for districts having students from defense bases.

The Novato district stands to lose approximately $175,000 next fiscal year if Congress passes a pending bill to cut 20 per cent from these funds, the board was told last week.

Giovanniello left today to protest the cut before the House Ways and Means Committee when it meets Thursday afternoon, according to Supt. James G. Bunker. He will also solicit the aid of the California congressmen in an attempt to restore the funds, Bunker said.

Protest telegrams have already been sent to Rep. Donald H. Clausen, R. First District and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel and George Murphy. Kuchel has answered that he would sponsor an amendment to the bill when it comes before the Senate to restore the 20 per cent cut in funds, Bunker said.

The Novato Unified School District board also:

FUNDS — Authorized the staff to see if the $65,500 in state site allowance funds which orginally were approved for the administration building site, could be used to purchase a corporation site.

OFFICE SPACE — Authrorized renting an office at $100 per month at 1620 Grant Avenue, for five months for the principals of the San Ramon Elementary, Sinaloa Junior High and San Marin High until those school buildings are completed. The board also authorized the staff to investigate renting 5,000 square feet of office space in the same building for additional adminisrative offices.

TIME CHANGE — Approved changing the time of the graudation for San Jose Junior High from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. on June 14 so that graduates' fathers can attend.

SCHOOL BUSES — Approved the agreement with the City of Novato so that school buses could be used for the city recreation programs if it did not conlfict with their use of the school district.

Fraudulent Check Prison Sentence

Donald W. Kantola, 39, of Vallejo, was sentenced in Marin Superior Court yesterday to six months to 15 years in prison for having a fradulent check with intent to pass it at Drake Market in San Anselmo Feb. 16, 1967.

Judge Thomas F. Keating said the term will run concurrently with a similar sentence Kantola is now serving in prison.

FIRE RUINS SAN RAFAEL PLANT

Flames jump from the second-story windows of the Himco ladder company at 734 A Street, San Rafael, early today. The blaze caused between $500,000 and $1 million in damage. The cause is being investigated. Fire Chief Vance Trivett discounted a report a burglar started the blaze. Inside the building (right) a fireman douses burning rubble. Twenty firemen, manning a dozen pieces of equipment, fought the blaze. Trivett said the fire started long before firemen were notified. Other photos and story, page 1.)

Ex-Marinite Dies As Car Crashes Tree

A former Marin County woman died early this morning in a Santa Rosa hospital from injuries she suffered when her car crashed into a tree in Santa Rosa.

Mrs. Betty Christiansen Kirby, 49, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Christiansen of 53 Cypress Drive, Fairfax, hit a tree on Los Olivos Road in Santa Rosa about 1:30 a.m., Santa Rosa police said.

Cause of the accident is not yet known, they said.

Mrs. Kirby was alone in the car.

She died several hours later following surgery at Sonoma County Hospital.

Mrs. Kirby, who was reared in Fairfax, where she attended elementary school. She was a graduate of Tamalpais High School and worked for Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in San Francisco before her marriage.

Supervisors Vote ABAG Confidence

Marin County Board of Supervisors today unanimously passed a vote of confidence in the Association of Bay Area Governments this morning, but with considerable reservation both from the board members and from the audience.

Irate Taxpayers of Marin, represented by Mrs. Stanley W. Frederick, called for Marin to withdraw from ABAG because of the embezzlement of more than a half million dollars last month.

Supervisors Thomas T. Storer balked at a letter of confidence drafted by Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen, and suggested that these words be added:

"We understand that definitive steps are now being taken to preclude a recurrence in the future."

With this addition, the supervisors reaffirmed its support of ABAG, "finding that ABAG continues to ably serve Marin County citizens as a regional planning and policy recommending organization."

Supervisor John F. McInnis defended ABAG, saying "not one dollar of money that came into the mechanics of ABAG is missing or mishandled in any degree."

McInnis said ABAG was not in error, "it was the error of the auditing firm."

But Supervisor Storer and Mrs. Frederick pointed out that since some of Marin County's checks also found their way into the wrong hands, there must be some fault with ABAG procedures.

McInnis replied that if the federal government had reported its payments accurately, the auditing firm would have been able to detect any dues or assessments from Marin or any other county that was diverted to private use.

Kettehhofen said he would go along with Storer's added admonition because, he said, there must have been some loophole in ABAG's bookkeeping methods to allow checks from Marin County and other local governments to be diverted.

"I don't think we can smooth it over by saying ABAG is not at fault said Kettenhofen.

Vehicle's Lights Blind Motorist

A San Rafael father and son were injured yesterday in Lucas Valley when the lights of an oncoming unidentified vehicle caused their car to swerve off the road into a ditch.

Albert D. McKinney, 45, of 12 Oak Hill Road, San Rafael, who was driving, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with multiple cuts and scrapes.

His son, Jonathan, 15, was in fair condition with face cuts and fractures.

Wrong Car Driver Blamed For Crash

A Mill Valley woman suffered scalp and face cuts yesterday when she drove her car off Shoreline Highway north of Stinson Beach to avoid hitting an unidentified vehicle that was on the wrong side of the road at 3:30 p.m., the California Highway Patrol said.

Supervisors Hold Off On Juvenile Funds

Before more money is spent on new wings at Marin Juvenile Hall, the use of existing facilities and home-type rehabilitation should be explored to the fullest, Marin County supervisors declared this morning at a joint meeting with the Marin Juvenile Justice Commission.

Supervisors agreed that the boys' wing at Juvenile Hall is in bad shape. But Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen said other methods like group homes and intensive supervision should be developed.

GROUP HOMES

Group homes, operated by Frends of Arequippa, are being expanded, and the probation department is also expanding intensive supervision, which is an emphasis on cencentrated supervision of the most serious problem children.

James D. Adams, juvenile justice commission chairman, presented an 18-page report by Walter H. Busher, probation officer, which includes a recommendation for construction of a 20-bed unit for girls.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr made the strongest pitch for improvements at Juvenile Hall. He said the replacement of "this cruddy building" has been delayed for seven years. Supervisor William A. Gnoss agreed that the boys' wing is "like a cell," and some repairs are badly needed.

HALL BUDGETS

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer outlined the cost increases since 1963, which shows the budget for Juvenile Hall doubled in five years.

"We should not be concerned at this time whether a new facility should be built," declared Supervisor John F. McInnis. He said this is an "interim period" when new programs are being developed, following the closing of the Family Rehabilitation Center. The county should wait to se how group homes and intensive supervision work out before talking about new construction, McInnis added.

The dilemma, said Kettenhofen is that while the county is using old procedures to deal with young offenders, the kind of youngsters has changed. Instead of being a danger to the community, many juvenile offenders are now a danger to themselves, said Kettenhofen.

Stolen Tools Found; Two Held

Two Muir Woods men were jailed on suspicion of burglary charges Sunday after their neighbor and Marin Sheriff's deputies said they found $1,000 worth of stolen tools in their house.

To appear in Municipal Court Wednesday are Richard C. Pace, 33, and Kenneth R. Marconi, 31, both of 438 Camino Del Canon, Muir Woods.

Joseph B. Libra of 300 Conlon Avenue, Muir Woods, told deputies Sunday that he suspected them of stealing his tools. A search of their house disclosed the missing tools, deputies said.

Museum's Friendly Racoon Missing

A pet raccoon called "Davy Crockett" wandered from the Louise A. Boyd Marin Museum of Science, San Rafael over the weekend and has not been seen since, Director Mrs. Clara Evans reported today.

She said Davy had no marks to set him apart from any other raccoon but, because he was tame, he may choose to stay within a short distance of the museum. He should not be handled, said Mrs. Evans.

Bridge Director Sets Marin Talk

Stephan C. Leonoudakis, San Francisco member of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board, will be guest speaker Thursday before the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club, which will meet at 8 p.m. at Tamalpais Valley School.

Leonoudakis will speak on legislation recently introduced by his law partner, Assemblyman John C. Foran, D-San Francisco, to let the district be involved in other forms of transportation such as ferries.

Drug Suspects Start Court Rounds

Charles Hodge, 19, of Gate 5, Sausalito, and Monty Leon Miller, 18, of San Rafel, arrested during the county's narcotics roundup, were arraigned in Marin Superior Court yesterday on charges of selling dangerous drugs.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court held them to answer on the charges and referred both to the probation office for possible certification to juvenile court after a preliminary hearing Friday.

LSD CAPSULES

Hodge is accused of selling three capsules of LSD to an agent of the Marin County Drug Abuse Bureau for $10. Miller is accused of selling $20 worth of methedrine to the same agent.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court yesterday set bail for Hodge at $1,000 and Miller at $1,500. He continued their cases to Monday for entry of plea.

Nine other men arrested in the raids and facing grand jury indictments for selling marijuana and dangerous drugs appeared before Judge Haley yesterday, most of them seeking bail reductions.

Michael Stepanian, San Francisco attorney, complained to Judge Haley that he was setting much higher bails than those set for the same offenses by Judge Hadden W. Roth in Marin Municipal Court.

IN MUNI COURT

"I'm handling 15 persons in Municipal Court," he said. "All but one of them is for selling marijuana or dangerous drugs and the highest bail set is $1,500. One of those municipal Court cases concerns the sale of two pounds of methedrine and that's substantially more than any one of these men are accused of selling."

Bail set by Judge Haley ranges from $1,000 to $7,500. In most cases, it is about $3,000.

The judge told Stepanian to make formal, written motions for bail reductions. In his motions, he should include information about the backgrounds of the defendants, Haley said.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said he thought the difference in bails set in Municipal Court and Superior Court exhibited the difference in the philosophy of the judges.

"I objected to releasing all those people without bail or with reduced bails," he said. "I told Judge Roth I thought he was wrong."

CONTINUES CASES

Judge Haley continued the cases of those men in custody to Monday at 3:30 p.m. for entry of plea. Those not in custody are to appear March 18 in Superior Court, he said.

In Municipal Court yesterday, three men denied charges they sold dangerous drugs to narcotics agents.

Timothy Jack Coy, 23, of 300 Poplar Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, pleaded innocent to charges of selling marijuana and possessing it for sale Feb. 24. He was ordered to appear at a preliminary hearing March 29.

David Woeller, 38, of 108 Bonita, Sausalito, pleaded innocent to charges of selling LSD Feb. 24 and was ordered to appear at a preliminary hearing April 5.

Bookstore Owner Sued For Divorce

Herbert W. Beckman, owner of the Tides bookstore in Sausalito, was sued for divorce in Marin Superior Court today by his wife of more than 10 years.

Mary R. Beckman of 212 Cazneau Avenue, Sausalito, accused her husband of cruelty. She asked for custody of their two sons and one daughter, a split of community property and reasonable support.

Beckman is capable of providing $1,500 a month in support of his wife and children, she said.

SOUND BID

During the 1954 World Championships, Jacques Amouraben and Marcel Kornblum, playing for Europe, got to the very sound contract of six spades on today's hand. They were about to pick up 770 points because the American team had stopped at three notrump, making five, when they held the North-South cards at the first table of the match. But something funny happened on the way to six spades.

Kornblum took the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts, and drew the trumps with the ace, queen and king. Now he needed to hold the club loss to one trick, but he made the blunder of leading the ace of clubs.

It was all over. Cliff Bishop, East, was sure to get two club tricks. The European team lost 760 points instead of gaining 770 points. It was severe punishment for a moment's carelessness.

PLAY WELL KNOWN

The correct play of the clubs is well known to good technicians. South should begin the suit by leading a low club from his hand to dummy's queen.

If West has all four clubs, South can take the second club trick with the ace and lead another club toward dummy, through West's K-10. West gets only his king.

CLUB HOLD

If East has all four clubs, he will capture dummy's queen, but declarer next leads a club to dummy's jack and returns a club for a finesse through East's 10-6. In this case also, South loses a trick only to the king.

Even with the worst possible club break South can clear the suit, losing only to the king.

Then he gets to dummy with the ace of diamonds to discard a diamond on dummy's last club. Now you're ready to play in the world championships.

Answer: Bid one club.

With 18 points and a fairly strong five-card suit your hand is too strong for an opening bid of 1-notrump.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, March 5, the 65th day of 1968 with 301 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1770 the Boston massacre took place as British troops fired on and killed five civilians.

In 1933 election returns in Germany gave the Nazis and their Nationalist Allies 52 per cent of the seats in the Reichstag.

In 1953 the Russians announced that Premier Josef Stalin had died at the age of 73 of a cerebral hemorrage.

In 1966 a British airliner crashed into Japan's Mount Fuji, killing 124 persons.

A thought for the day: Izaak Walton said, "I love such mirth as does not make friends ashamed to look up one another in the morning."

San Rafael Council Grants Blanket TV Cable Service

San Rafael City Council last night unanimously adopted an ordinance which in effect gave Tele-Vue Systems Inc. blanket coverage of the city for community antenna television cable service.

Councilmen granted Tele-Vue Systems a license for all of the city, except the Sun Valley and Terra Linda sections of the city, where it already is operating under a previous agreement.

Under terms of the license, the city will receive 2 per cent of all gross revenue up to $65,000, 3 per cent from $65,000 to $130,000, 4 per cent from $130,000 to $200,000 and 5 per cent over $200,000.

Installation charges will be $25 for the first outlet and $10 for each additional outlet. Monthly service charges will be $5 for one TV set and $1 for each additional set. There also are additional charges for extended area service and underground installation.

The Independent-Journal in an editorial last Thursday countended that the council would be in effect awarding exclusive franchise, which is banned by the city charter.

Councilmen adopted the ordinance without comment on the I-J editorial.

At the suggestion of Mayor C. Paul Bettini, the council called for a study of all city fees, not only business license fees.

Bettini said many of the city's fees haven't been changed for years. The council asked City Mgr. Dan E. Anderen to report back in 60 days on the fees.

Jurchan of 16 Mira Flores Avenue, San Rafael, for $136, for damage to his car, Oct. 30, 1967, which he claimed resulted from negligent tree care by the city; and from George Hasman, 1824 Fifth Avenue, for $52,355 for medical expenses, hospital expenses and pain resulting from a fall at Shaver and Third streets, Nov. 18, 1967, which he claimed resulted from a "dangerous" sidewalk and city negligence.

PRAIRIE SCHOONERS TO JETS

Isabel (Granny) Wilcox celebrated her fifth brithday in a covered wagon, and helped her family split rails and survive the hard times of post-Civil War Missouri. Yesterday, in a Dallas, Tex., nursing home, she lighted up for her 105th birthday and reminisced how her life had spanned the pioneer age to the jet age, and how she outlived three husbands and 10 of her 13 children. She says she enjoys two packs of cigarettes daily, and an occasional cigar. (AP Wirephoto)

Old Portion Of Library Held Unsafe

The old portion of the San Rafael Public Library would be unsafe in the event of a strong earthquake, but generally is structurally sound.

This was the gist of a report from Copple and Foreaker of San Rafael, consulting engineers, presented to the San Rafael City Council last night by Chief Building Inspector Jack Coates.

"The bracing of the building is not adequate to resist a strong earthquake," the report stated, but the work necessary, to strengthen it would be "relatively minor."

Councilmen agreed that the work needed to bring the old building up to earthquake-resistant standards be undertaken. They agreed to roof revamping, estimated to cost $5,000, and, if necessary, pier strengthening, estimated to cost $1,000.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen noted that the work would have to go out to bid and final council approval would come with the awarding of a contract.

Councilmen noted that their approval was on the condition that the library board approved.

The roof work would take about five days and wouldn't interfere with the use of the building, the engineers reported.

In 1910 in California, there were 3,000 miles of State highway, mostly running north and south.

Eskimos find reindeer meat tasty and the animal's milk provides cheese and vitamins. Skins fashion sleeping bags and clothing. One hide makes two parkas.

No Hearing On Highway

San Rafael City Council isn't holding a hearing March 18 on a proposal to have Highway 17 in Marin removed from the state freeway system, according to Mayor C. Paul Bettini.

Bettini said last night such a hearing was reported in local newspapers. "This isn't correct," he said. "We didn't set the hearing."

Councilmen indicated Feb. 19 they would hold a hearing, but wanted to hear first from a representative of the State Division of Highways.

City Mgr. Dan E. Anderson reported there probably wouldn't be a hearing until midsummer beacuse the state division of highway engineers are reviewing various routing proposals and protests that have been made with the Marin County Department of Public Works. "They're taking another look at possible locations," he said.

A closed session will be called during the meeting to discuss appointments of a fireman to replace George LaSalle, who resigned, and a new lieutenant for the district, Chief Franklin J. Buscher said today.

Buy Bonds where you work.

They do.

Why do our servicemen buy U.S. Savings Bonds? Their reasons are the same as yours and mine: saving for the future, supporting freedom. And because they're fighting for freedom, too, maybe servicemen see the need more clearly than many of us. Buy Bonds. In more than one way, it makes you feel good.

New Freedom Shares

Now, when you join the Payroll Savings Plan or the Bond-a-Month Plan, you are eligible to purchase the new type U.S. Savings Notes—Freedom Shares—as a bonus opportunity. Freedom Shares pay 4.74% when held to maturity of just four-and-a-half years (redeemable after one year), are available on a one-for-one basis with Savings Bonds. Get the facts where you work or bank.

Goldwater Not For Rockefeller

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Former Sen. Barry Goldwater said today he would not support New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller as the Republican nominee for President. (See also story on Nixon, page 1.)

Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential candidate, said he could not speak for fellow Republican conservatives, but he himself would not be able to back Rockefeller because of Rockefeller's refusal to support his own presidential bid.

'TOO FAR APART'

"Rockefeller thought so little of my position in 1964, it would naturally come about that I would think little of his position," Goldwater said in a telephone interview with UPI from his Phoenix, Ariz., home. "We'd be too far apart. He couldn't support me; I can't support him for the same reasons."

Rockefeller, a member of the liberal wing of the party, refused to support Goldwater in 1964 because of the great divergence of their views.

Goldwater predicted Rockefeller would find sustantial opposition within the party if he changed his position from one of being available for a draft to one of actively seeking the nomination.

"He'll find out what Romney found out, that many Republicans resented what they did in 1964," Goldwater said.

FOLLOWED SUIT

Michigan Gov. George Romney, who bowed out of the 1968 GOP presidential race last week on grounds he was making no headway in the New Hampshire primary contest against former Vice President Richard Nixon, joined Rockefeller on the sidelines in 1964.

In Democratic developments, meantime, administration leaders decided late yesterday not to enter President Johnson's name against Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy in the Massachusetts presidential primary. McCarthy, campaigning on an antiwar platform, had challenged Johnson to join the contest and debate the issues.

OMAHA MELEE

In Omaha, a melee broke out as former Alabama Gov. George Wallace appeared at a rally to form a third party in Nebraska for his presidential candidacy. He was showered with missiles by about 50 persons in front row seats, but police squirting chemical immobilizer quieted the crowd of 5,300 at the civic auditorium.

Wallace brought cheers from the crowd when he shouted that "militant activists, anarchists, Communists and revolutionists" were responsible for the breakdown of law and order.

He is already on the primary ballot as a Democratic candidate, but is seeking to nullify that and get on the November ballot as a third party candidate.

Following the melee an off-duty policeman shot and killed a Negro youth attempting to break into a pawn shop, following a night of disorders touched off by Wallace's visit.

At least a dozen persons were injured as roving groups of Negro youths smashed store windows and automobile windshields and pelted two city buses with bricks and rocks.

The violence occurred in Omaha's Near North Side, scene of serious rioting in the summer of 1966.

McCarthy's campaign faced an early test of strength tonight when the Minnesota Democratic-Farmer-Labor party holds precinct elections statewide to elect delegates that will control the state's 52 votes at the Democratic convention.

NEW POLLS

A poll taken by Roper Research Associates, Inc., and published in Time Magazine yesterday gave Johnson 62 per cent of the vote in the New Hampshire primary with 11 per cent for McCarthy, 9 per cent for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and 18 per cent scattered or undecided.

The Time poll, taken before Romney's withdrawal, gave Nixon 65 per cent of the New Hampshire Republican vote, Rockefeller 13 per cent, Romney 9 per cent and California Gov. Ronald Reagan 1 per cent.

Newsweek reported a poll of state Republican leaders indicated Nixon had 621 delegate votes lines up for the GOP convention, only 46 shy of the 667 needed to get the nomination. This was a gain of 60 votes since a Newsweek count nine weeks ago.

Teachers' Straw Poll On In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The city's 4,500 public school teachers marked ballots today in a poll to determine which of two rival teacher organizations they want to represent them.

The poll was one of the agreements arising out of the back-to-work proposal by Mayor Joseph L. Alioto accepted Sunday night by members of Local 61 of the American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, after a one-day strike.

While conditions returned to normal in San Francisco's 130 schools, new teacher restlessness surfaced in Oakland.

The Oakland Education Association, representing 1,900 of the city's 2,700 teachers, threatened to strike next week unless "meaningful negotiations" were started by the board of education.

The association is demanding that the board and the school district agree on teacher salaries and working conditions for the 1968-69 school year before the end of the present school term.

San Francisco teachers had until Thursday to return the poll ballots. The two groups expected to receive the bulk of support are the union, representing about one-third of the teachers, and the Classroom Teachers Association, whose 2,500 teachers worked during the strike Friday.

Two mediators appointed by Alioto plan separate meetings tomorrow when the union, school officials and the CTA to discuss the union's 12 demands for educational reform.

Elsewhere, striking teachers defied threats of arrest and fines today and resumed picketing Pittsburgh's public schools.

One Pittsburgh picket, arrested because he ignored a dispersal order, said the strikers were willing to go to jail to "serve notice of the gravity of the situation."

In Oklahoma, legislative leaders were met with Gov. Dewey Bartlett to discuss the veto of a school and tax package.

And in the St. Louis suburb of Wellston, Mo., 94 teachers said they will return to classes tomorrow if the school board votes tonight to resubmit a tax proposition to the voters.

No Alcohol In Blood Tests

Blood tests on the 15-year-old San Rafael youth, who was driving the car in which a companion was killed in a high-speed crash on Feb. 21, showed no presence of alcohol, San Rafael police said yesterday.

Police had ordered the tests on Rick Scully of 27 Racquet Club Drive after they said they noticed an odor of alcohol in the crushed convertible.

Scully and Jeffery Springstead, 17, of 222 Alpine Street, are not listed in good condition at Marin General Hospital, recovering from injuries they suffered in the accident.

The other occupant of the vehicle, Mark O. Kenney, 15, of 276 Fairhills Drive, was killed when the car rammed a tree on Fifth Avenue in San Rafael.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

What is the difference between young and old adults? This intriguing question involves more than age. Some 60-year-olds are crotchety; others are hale and hearty and look as though they are good for another 20 years.

Unfortunately, youth is considered the norm so we tend to compare the physical and mental status of oldsters with that of the younger generation.

THE BODY can stand the stress of working just so long and, like a motor, finally wears out. This decline is not always calculated by "years" because some people deteriorate more quickly than others.

Furthermore, with longevity, the body is subject to more insults. This may help to explain why 75 per cent of all persons between 65 and 74 have chronic ailments that accelerate the aging process.

A YOUNG adult is over the hump on reaching his 30th birthday. He no longer is the physical specimen he was at 20, nor does he have the same learning capacity. From here on, he becomes less agile, slows down, and begins to appreciate the saying that every age has it compensations.

What appeared to be the most wonderful thing in the world at 22, will be relegated to a less important position. Memories remain, but man cannot live on memories alone.

ACTIVITY is a youthful behavior. With advancing years and under ordinary conditions there is an increasing tendency to become more sedentary. Material desires wane and the oldster tends to become more set in his ways.

Most young adults contemplate the future whereas oldsters dwell more on time, change, grief, loneliness, despair and death. Sexual drives lessen, but not to the extent that many believe. Obvious changes occur in the skin, hair, teeth, hearing and vision.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer question on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

EMERGENCY STERILIZING

R. A. writes: If no facilites are available to boil a hypodermic needle, and an insulin shot is needed, what is the best way of sterilizing the needle?

REPLY

With alcohol, whisky, detergent and water, or the flame from a match. In an emergency we often must select the lesser of two evils. In the circumstances you mentioned, the diabetic must have insulin, so he will have to take the chance of developing an infection from a needle that is not completely sterile.

EXCESS ACIDITY

D. M. writes: Would a blood test show whether the person has too much acid in the system?

REPLY

Yes, but this "too much acid" stuff is quack talk. The body has several ways of keeping the blood neutral. Should this mechanism fail, you would be faced with an overwhelming amount of acid, such as occurs in diabetic acidosis, uremia, and extraordinary degrees of starvation and dehydration.

POSTURE, FLAT FEET

W. O. writes: Will improvements in posture help flat feet?

REPLY

Yes, in that a proper distribution of body weight balances the load on the arches. But there is more to flat feet han posture. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet giving suggestions on fallen arches.

CONTACTS FOR ATHLETES

Mrs. A. writes: Are contact lenses dangerous for a young man who plays football?

REPLY

No. These devices are far better than ordinary specs for athletes who must wear glasses.

Equal Time TV-Radio Role Probed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House investigating subcommittee asked a panel of broadcasting experts today to examine in depth the role of television and radio as molders of public opinion.

The panel, headed by Prof. Roscoe L. Barrow of the University of Cincinnati Law School, was summoned for two days of discussions by the special subcommittee on investigations of the House Commerce Committee.

Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., who heads both the subcommittee and the full committee, said the aim was to obtain a "free, open and objective" examination of that delicate realm where broadcasts may shape public opinion.

To this end, the discussions were focused primarily on two areas of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) regulation of broadcasting: the "equal time" requirement for political candidates, and the so-called "fairness doctrine."

Under the equal time requirements, as set out in Section 315 of the Federal Communications Act, legally qualified candidates for public office must be afforded "equal opportunities" with competing candidates for use of a station's facilities.

It was this requirement that was suspended by Congress in 1960 to permit presidential candidates John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon to engage in their series of debates without requiring broadcasters to give the same opportunity to third party candidates.

The "fairness doctrine," first enunciated by the FCC in 1949, requires that "when a broadcast station presents one side of a controversial issue of public importance reasonable opportunity must be afforded for the presentation of contrasting views."

This doctrine has been applied by the FCC on a case by case basis. It has resulted in a number of controversial rulings including one last year — now under court challege — that stations presenting cigarette commericals are dealing with a controversial issue of public importance and thus must also present views opposing smoking.

The hearings also were aimed at exploring related aspects of broadcasting as an opinion shaper, such as editorializing by stations, or the FCC view that stations must give persons or groups who are subject to "personal attacks" over the air a chance to respond.

The hearings raise a basic question about regulation of broadcasters in the area of opinion making.

The printed media traditionally has enjoyed constitution opinions and issues without restraint. In contrast, broadcasters have been subjected to regulation in this area on the premise that they must act "in the public interest" in exchange for government protection of their monopoly use of a "public" channel or frequency, a view a number of congressmen have agreed with.

White Militant Peril Described

LANSING, Mich. (UPI)— Capt. Ray McConnell, chief of Michigan State Police intelligence, said yesterday officials believe white militants to be as dangerous as black militants in potential riot situations.

McConnell named the John Birch Society, the Minutemen and the Ku Klux Klan as among "hard core white groups" upon which the police are keeping close watch.

"Everybody's buying guns and as far as we're concerned that's the worst thing," he said.

Burglaries Cleared Up By Arrests

Arrest of three San Francisco juveniles after an exchange of shots with San Francisco police has cleared up a series of burglaries and attempted burglaries which took place Thursday in Sausalito, police reported yesterday.

Sausalito Police Sgt. James R. Nunes said two 15-year-olds and a 14-year-old were arrested Thursday after San Francisco police spotted them in a stolen car. They reportedly fired at police with guns stolen from a Daly City gun shop before being arrested.

Property recovered from the boys included an extensive list of clothing stolen Thursday from the Hurricane Gulch Cleaners, 302 Main Street, and clothing stolen from a car owned by Myra Caratti, 92 Cazneau Avenue.

Nunes said the youths, now held in San Francisco Juvenile Hall, are believed also responsible for attempted break-ins the same night at Chappelle's Leather Goods, 599 Bridgeway, and Goldsmith, 2 Princess Street, and from auto burglaries of cars owned by Martin Blinder, 89 Cazneau Avenue, and Loni Graham, 166 Cazneau Avenue.

Ignition of the Graham car was punched as if a car theft had been tried, Nunes said. Items of clothing left in Blinder's car were found later to be among those stolen from the Caratti car.

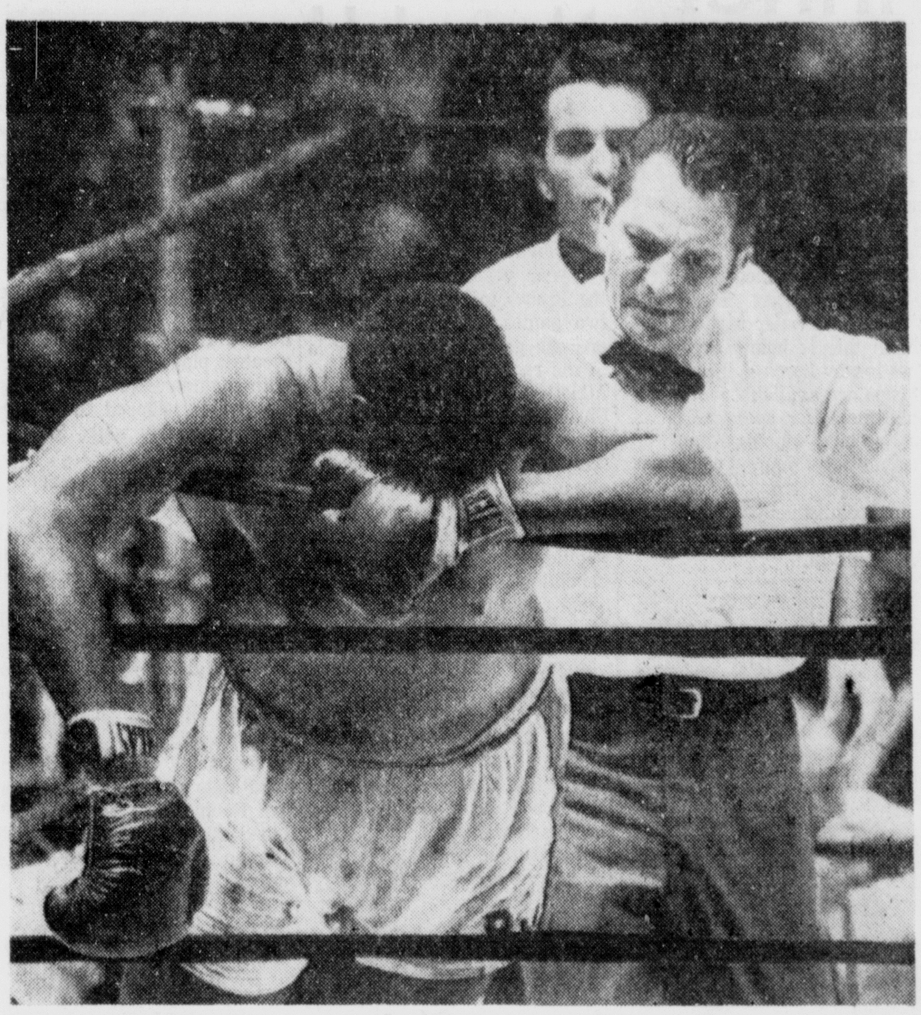
Benvenuti Wins Title, Frazier Has Part Of One



BUSTER HAS THE BLAAHS — Heavyweight Buster Mathis gets that funny feeling as he leans on the ropes after referee Arthur Mercante declares him technically knocked out by Joe Frazier in the 11th round of their title bout in Madison Square Garden. (UPI Telephoto)

Record Boxing Crowd

NEW YORK (AP) — Nino Benvenuti is once again middleweight champion of the world and Joe Frazier rules as heavyweight king of at least part of it today after a record-setting boxing doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

A crowd of 18,096 paid $683,503, an indoor fight gate record, to watch the stylish Benvenuti outlast Emile Griffith for a unanimous decision and Frazier stalk and pound blubbery Buster Mathis into submission in the 11th round.

BODY BLOWS

Frazier, fighting for recognition by New York, Massachusetts, Maine, and Illinois as heavyweight champ, wore Mathis down with punishing body blows before finally dropping the big guy from Grand Rapids, Mich., with a short, stiff left hook in the 11th.

Mathis, his white trunks covered with blood, fell into the ropes heavily. He stumbled to his feet at the count of nine but Referee Arthur Mercante stopped the fight. The time was 2:33.

REVENGE

"This ought to prove who owns who," a jubilant Frazier shouted in his dressing room. Joe, who won the Olympic heavyweight title in 1964, twice lost to Mathis as an amateur. The defeats were the only blemishes on his record.

Frazier, the one-time butcher boy from Philadelphia, bloodied Mathis' nose in the third round, and then concentrated on the big guy's body in the middle rounds.

The stiff body punches tore into Buster's ample mid-section and took the steam out of the 243½ pound Mathis' fast start.

Yancy Durham, Frazier's manager, had advised the 24-year-old slugger to work on Mathis' body. "Beat him around the belly," Durham had told Frazier, "and he'll eventually give up."

IN CONTROL

So Joe, giving away 39 pounds to Mathis, pounded away and from the sixth round on it seemed obvious he was in complete control.

Mathis, badly shaken by the defeat, said he was stunned at losing the way he did.

"I thought I was ahead," he said, "then I pulled back from a left hook and got tagged."

Jimmy Iselin, wealthy young head of Peers, Inc., which has managed Mathis' career, said that if Buster continued fighting, it would be against tougher opponents.

Frazier went into the bout a 2-1 favorite, mostly because he had faced tougher opponents in his 19-fight career than Buster.

"Maybe we took this fight too soon," said Iselin, "I don't know."

UNDAUNTED

Frazier was undaunted by the limited recognition of only four states and the pre-fight picket lines thrown up by supporters of Cassius Clay. The pickets carried signs claiming Clay still was heavyweight champion. Cassius was stripped of his title by several boxing commissions for refusing to serve in the Armed Forces.

Asked if he felt like the world champion, Frazier became annoyed.

"What do you think, man?" he snapped. "What do you think I was fighting for out there?"

Giants Hope Davenport Can Play In 120 Games

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. — Jim Davenport long has had a deserved reputation of being one of the good guys in baseball. And, in fact, he still is. But don't ask the 10-year major league veteran how many games he expects to play this season at age 34.

Davenport is extremely sensitive about the subject. His touchiness is traceable to the fact that hardly a day has passed since spring training started that the question hasn't been put to the third baseman of the Giants.

"I'm going to play as much as I possibly can," Davenport said somewhat testily when one baseball writer bravely broached the subject in an interview. "I'll play a good number of games barring injuries. Over 100? Yes, but I can't say whether I'll play 130, 140 or 150."

Of course, Herman Franks doesn't expect Davenport to play 150 games or 140 or even 130. The manager of the Giants would be tickled if Davenport could keep third base covered for 120 games.

Never Played In 150 Games

Even in his Golden Glove years at third base before Alvin Dark, Franks' predecessor, made an all-around utility hand out of him, Davenport never played 150 games in one season. His high was 147 in 1963. During his best year, the 1962 pennant year of the Giants when he hit a career high of .297, Davenport played 144 games.

Last season when he resumed his old third base job on a daily basis after im Ray Hart was shifted to left field, Davenport appeared in 124 games, 28 of them as a pinch hitter. He delivered key pinch hits 10 times, four of them directly winning games. His pinch hitting average was a very smart .357. His overall average was a most acceptable .275.

"I did get some big hits last season," Davenport acknowledged matter-of-factly with a smile as the interview progressed from a touchy area to a pleasant one. "It was one of my best seasons. Except for the first week when I jammed my shoulder in Atlanta, I was in good health."

Exercises Helped Leg Muscles

What about those winter exercises Davenport did to strengthen the muscles of his left leg?

"I think the exercises helped me," said Davenport. "But my leg hasn't bothered me for the past couple of seasons."

Nevertheless, when Franks suggested at the end of last season that Davenport do the exercises at a downtown San Francisco gym under direction of Bert Gustafson, physical therapist, Davenport didn't object. Franks had a feeling that some of the muscles in Davenport's leg atrophied from disuse following a 1959 knee operation.

"Physically I feel real good," said Davenport. "Mentally I feel great. I don't have to worry this year about playing second base or shortstop. But I could do it for a time if necessary."

Davenport is well aware that in his 10 years with the Giants he has ammassed a total of 999 hits and his next one will be his thousandth.

49ers Retain Tittle

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Former University of Utah coach Mike Giddings and longtime pro quarterback Y.A. Tittle have signed contracts as assistant coaches for the San Francisco 49ers.

They were the fifth and sixth assistants to be signed by new coach Dick Nolan. He is still looking for an offensive line coach to complete his staff.

Giddings, 34, a former offensive guard at the University of California, will make his coaching debut in the pro ranks. Tittle, who played for the 49ers and New York Giants, will return for his third season in an advisory capacity.

DUTIES EXPLAINED

A club spokesman said yesterday that Tittle's duties will be expanded this year. He will consult with Nolan until training camp opens in July on how to improve the team's offense.

Giddings, who coached at Utah in 1966 and 1967, was hired as special linebacker coach. He had served for five years as defensive coach at the University of Southern California. Prior to that, he coached at Glendale Junior College and Monrovia (Calif.) High School.

TWO HOLDOVERS

Miss Massey Leads Tam Club Swimmers

Twelve-year-old Ginger Massey topped the list with four victories in six events. Other first place winners were Janelle Elliott, Lisa Berryman, Claude Ansari, Steve Berryman, Dick Atwood and Nancy Scruggs.

Russians Join In Protest

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today demanded that the International Olympic Committee cancel its decision to let South Africa take part in the Mexico Summer Olympics.

The Central Council of Soviet sports clubs and organizations issued a stagement calling the IOC decision "a challenge to all public opinion." It said this was "fraught and serious consequences for the very Olympic movement and places in jeopardy the 19th Olympic Games."

NO THREAT

But the statement, carried by the official news agency Tass, did not explicitly threaten that the Soviet Union would boycott the Mexico Olympics if the Original IOC decision is allowed to stand.

The governing body of Soviet Sports accused the members of the IOC who voted for South Africa's readmission of "most flagrantly violating the Olympic charger banning political, racialist or religious discrimination against sportsmen."

It said "this practically spells encouragement of the policy of apartheid."

CHARGES

The statement maintained that the IOC took its decision "to please certain imperialist quarters" and "to fulfill imperialism's social order and disrupt the world sporting movement."

The Soviet Union already had condemned the IOC for its action on South Africa. Today's statement indicated this country will await its next move until the meeting of the IOC executive board called for last Friday by IOC President Avery Brundage.

This meeting to reconsider the South Africa issue is to be held within the next few months, perhaps in Lausanne in May.

The statement issued today said that the Soviet Union stands together with the African and other countries that have opposed the decision favoring South Africa.

DISMISSED

It dismissed the form of integration undertaken by South Africa to get back into Olympic competition.

"The National Olympic Committee of the South African Republic does not include a single representative of the native population of the country," the statement said.

"The sports principle of elimination contests for the Olympics has been replaced by administrative selection, determined by white leaders."

Davenport Is Really Hurting

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI) —Jim Davenport is hurting, which is why the San Francisco Giants are trying out a lot of guys at third base this spring.

Davenport has had back problems for years and also has a sprained wrist. He was in pain yesterday and took a long whirlpool treatment for his aches.

The weather came up windy so Manager Herman Franks sent his athletes on their customary three-mile run and then gave them the day off.

Gutierrez and 22-year-old Al Gallagher are two of those who will get a long look at the hot corner this spring.

WIGHTMAN CUP TENNIS

British Challenge Accepted

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. Lawn Tennis Association today accepted Britain's challenge for the Wightman Cup and gave another boost to Britain's open tennis plans.

The British, planning open tournaments from April 22, are schedued to be suspended by the International Lawn Tennis Federation as of that date.

The Wightman Cup matches, between the women's team of Britain and the United States, are scheduled for June 14-15 at Wimbledon. So the United States apparently means to disregard any suspension and continue competing against Britain as usual. The move was seen here as another step in Britain's bid to abolish "shamateurism" and get open tournaments launched as part of the normal tennis calendar.

The row, which threatens to split the ILTF, is due to come to a head at a special meeting of the world body in Paris March 30.

The Americans already have said they might leave the ILTF if open tennis is not sanctioned.

Frank Robinson Is Seeking $125,000

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frank Robinson and Johnny Callison feel Baltimore and Philadelphia are adding insult to injury with ther money offers to play baseball this year. The Orioles and Phillies, on the other hand, feel Robinson and Callison have added their figures wrong.

As a result of these mixed up mathematics of baseball value, the two slugging outfielders remained two of the biggest name holdouts as major league spring training moves on.

Clete Boyer, third baseman for Atlanta, was another who has not found the right answer in his talks with the Braves.

But some agreeable figures were reached yesterday as Frank Howard signed the largest money contract ever, $47,500, by a Washington player; Mel Queen, Tommy Helms and rookie Jay Ritchie ended their holdout with Cincinnati, and the Orioles did come to terms with Dave Johnson and Curt Blefary.

Robinson, however, remained Baltimore's big problem, and if everyone's figures are correct, the American League Triple Crown winner two years ago and the Orioles are $15,000 apart.

Robinson, who sat out a month last season with double vision after a baseline collision and still managed to hit .311 with 94 runs batted in and 30 home runs, says he is standing by $125,000.

Personnel director Harry Dalton of the Orioles, who originally offered last year's $100,000 salary, then raised it to $105,000, reportedly increased his offer to $110,000 Monday after talking to Robinson 1½ hours.

Robinson felt Dalton "made a very sincere try to sign me . . . It's just that I'm not satisfied with the offer yet."

"I was hopeful that he would be willing to capitulate at much less than that." Dalton said of the $125,000 figure.

For Callison, a former All-Star outfielder who suffered a torn cartilage last year and played in considerable pain for some time, the problem was a little different. He was being asked to take a cut from the reported $40,000 to $50,000 he got in 1967.

"I'm not going to take a cut," he said adamantly. "I don't think I deserve it."

Callison, who from his home in Philadelphia has talked to General Manager John Quinn several times, maintained his 1967 production of a .261 average with 14 homers and 64 RBI would have been better if he had not played with the injury.

"He quoted me one price at the beginning," Callison said of Quinn, "and it's still the same. I'm just not going to take that."

Boyer reportedly is seeking a $5,000 raise from the $45,000 he is being offered.

Meanwhile, Pittsburgh lost Billy O'Dell, former San Francisco Giants, through retirement. The 36-year-old left-hander announced he is leaving baseball to try his hand at politics. He plans to run for supervisor of Newberry County, S.C., after 14 years in the majors.

COACH OF THE YEAR

Guy Lewis, A Very Thirsty Winner

HOUSTON (AP) — Guy Lewis, college basketball's coach of the year, is a fidgety man who twists towels and drinks at least 20 cups of water during every game.

As usual, two soft drink cases holding 48 paper cups of water were at Lewis' feet last night as his University of Houston Cougars completed their regular season schedule with a 28-0 record by defeating West Texas State, 107-76, at Canyon.

Just two hours before the tip-off Lewis had won The Associated Press coach of the year award in run-away fashion. With 322 sports writers and broadcasters voting, Lewis collected 122 votes to 34 for John Wooden of UCLA, the 1966-67 season winner.

Houston had held the No. 1 national ranking since snapping UCLA's 47-game winning streak Jan. 20 with a 71-69 victory before a record crowd of 52,693 in the Astrodome.

Both Lewis and Hayes say their honors belong to the team and they agree the UCLA victory may have turned a good ball team into a great one.

"They were confident before that game and when it was over they just oozed with confidence," Lewis said.

Since that big game all five regulars have improved their shooting averages. Before UCLA, Hayes was shooting 53.4 per cent. In the final 11 games it was 64.2 per cent.

"Since the UCLA game we've worked better for the good shot," Lewis said. "I've thought we had good team play since the first of the season but since the UCLA game it has been the best I've ever seen on a college team, particularly for desire and an ability to give the ball to the open man."

That is why he described as amazing the team's 42 assists while routing Valpariso, 157-81.

"Everybody knew he could get the ball and go but everybody was still willing to pass the ball," Lewis said.

Lewis, who will be 46 on March 19, was Houston's first great athlete. He was co-captain of the school's first two basketball teams and both of them reached the NAIA playoffs in Kansas City.

He became freshman coach in 1953 and head coach in 1956. For the past eight seasons, Lewis' teams hold a 166-58 record, including 78-10 for the Hayes era. The 1967-68 team is the fourth straight to move into the NCAA playoffs.

Lewis' wife, Dena, says he thrives on pressure and can sleep anytime you get him still.

"But he loves to be on the go," she said. "If it's not scouting or coaching or recruiting it's the garden or the beach or playing with our dog that worships him," she said.

Howie Lorch, the student manager, estimates that Lewis drinks 20 cups of water a game but admits this is below average. That is why Lorch still sees that 48 cups are available.

"Maybe the lower average is because we're winning and haven't played many close games," Lorch said. "Or it might be because they've outlawed the dunk shot. That used to really excite him."

Dick Garibaldi, Critchfield Win Norcal Honors

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Santa Clara coach Dick Garibaldi and California guard Russ Critchfield have won top 1968 honors from the Northern Association.

Garibaldi was named coach of the year yesterday for piloting the Broncs to a 20-3 mark with two games to go. The Broncs are one game ahead of Loyola in the race for the West Coast Athletic Conference crown. Chritchfield was named player of the year. The 5-10 guard has scored at a 22 point per game clip for the Bears. Last year, he lost by one vote to Keith Swagerty of University of Pacific for the honor. This year, Critchfield edged Bud Ogden, Santa Clara forward, by a vote.

OTHERS

Rounding out the Northern California all star quintet were Stanford forward Art Harris, Santa Clara center Dennis Awtrey, and USF forward Dennis Black. Awtrey is a soph; Ogden a junior; and the other three seniors.

Second team selections included Art Wilmor eof USF, Jerry West of St. Mary's, Coby Dietrick of San Jose State, Bob Presley of California, and Tom Jones of University of Pacific. West and Jones were named co-players of the week.

LEW THE GREATEST

Rene Herrerias, head coach of California, called giant center Lew Alcindor of UCLA 'the greatest player I've ever seen." With Alcindor scoring 32 points, the Bruins whipped the Bears, 115-71, Saturday night in Los Angeles.

"That big man is something else," said Herrerias. "He played better against us down there than when he scored 44 points against us at Berkeley. He was everywhere we went."

The writers also chose an all-area freshman team headed by Jackie Ridgle, sensational Cal freshmen who cracked all records with a 30-point per game average.

Teammate Charlie Johnson, like Ridgle a prep all American, and Robbie Sperring of UOP, Ron Santos of USF and Darnell Hillman of San Jose State rounded out the team.

for the second time, decked Emile in the ninth round with a left hook that turned the middleweight fight around.

TAGGED

Both boxers lunged into each other in the opening minute of the round and Benvenuti's left crunched into Griffith's jaw. Emile sagged and Nino pumped a right that sent him to the canvas.

"The guy hit me," said Griffith, "there's no doubt about that." Emile spun across the ring and landed on the seat of his pants with a stunned look on his face.

"I was thinking clearly," said Emile. "I even helped the referee with the count." Griffith rose at three and took the manditory eight. He backtracked the rest of the round, weathering Benvenuti's attempt to end it.

Now Nino, who weighed 160 to Emile's 154½, took control and for the next few rounds he made up an early deficit. Then, with Griffith unleashing a furious closing flurry, Nino counterpunched effectively and gained the decision.

As the decision was announced, bands of Benvenuti's countrymen rushed into the ring, waving the green, red and white Italian flag. Throughout the fight they had filled the Garden with chants of "Neeno, Neeno, Neeno."

Benvenuti, who first beat Griffith for the middleweight crown last April 17, then lost a rematch to the New Yorker Sept. 29, left the door open for a fourth meeting.

"I can't say," he told newsmen. "I won't decide about a rematch until later."

Nino got $80,000. Mathis $75,000, and Griffith and Frazier $175,000 each. The gate broke the indoor record of $511,000 set by the third Floyd Patterson-Ingermar Johansson heavyweight title fight at Miami Beach's Convention Hall March 13, 1961.

Shipping Clerk Rolls First 700 Of Tourney

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pat Fratterolo of Edison, N.H., walloped a 709 series yesterday to become the first contestant in the 1968 American Bowling Congress tournament to break the 700 mark.

The 54-year-old shipping clerk fired his 204-277-228 set in the doubles. He got 554 pins support from partner Bill Mizerak to give the pair a second place two-man total of 1,263.

Ron Hibschman and Art Weber of Nappanee, Ind., continue to lead the doubles with their 1,283 series rolled Feb. 20.

Fratterolo's 277 middle game is the best in the doubles so far, surpassing a 269 rolled earlier by Jack Hosterman of State College, Pa. The high game of the 17-day-old tournament is a 300 rolled last Saturday by John Caras of Philadelphia in the singles.

Red Auerbach Argues Claim By 76er Fans

BOSTON (AP) — Red Auerbach, out-spoken general manager of the Boston Celtics, is ready to argue with anyone who thinks the Philadelphia 76ers are the best team in National Basketball Association history.

Auerbach told Boston basketball writers yesterday that references by Philadelphia fans to the 76ers as "the greatest team ever make me sick."

"Remember they won the title during an expansion year, and now they're leading the Eastern Division in another expansion year," he said. "We lost our bench strength through the expansion. What did they lose?"

Then, recalling the Celtics' nine NBA titles with him as coach, Auerbach said: "When they've won eight or nine titles, then they can come around and talk."

Philadelphia hiked its eastern lead to 5½ games by defeating the Celtics 133-127 Sunday. Auerbach figures the two teams will meet in the division's final playoffs. He forecast Philadelphia and Boston victories in the semifinals.

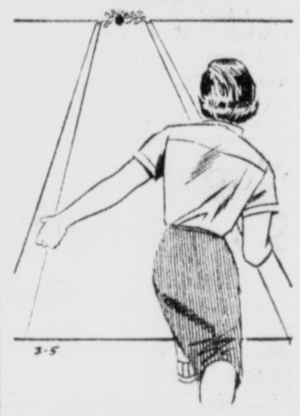
In the Western playoffs, he said St. Louis and Los Angeles should have fairly easy times in the semifinals. And, referring to Los Angeles, Auerbach predicted that "if they get healthy, look for a great playoff in the Western Division."

A bystander noted that Jerry West was the only ailing member of the Lakers and Auerbach had referred to "they."

"As far as I'm concerned, West is "they," Auerbach said.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARIAN LADEWIG



Don't do everything I say. This may sound a bit strange, but while all my tips are intended to be helpful, a bowler can become so rules-conscious that the fun goes out of bowling. An individual style is certainly permissible, within limits. Many successful bowlers get away with at least one fault. You might slump a little while getting set or use morespeed than is really best — the important thing is to enjoy the game. If you are concerned about bad scores, however, then check to see if your particular bad habit might be a factor.

Salmon Trollers Hit Jackpot; Bass, Flounder At China Camp

STEVENS

So you don't feel like making the long drive to the upper reaches of the state to tangle with a steelhead? But you do have a yen to feel a game fish on the end of your line? A report on what has and is transpiring fishwise follows:

Salmon trolling outside the Golden Gate has paid off in fair to good measure. For example, Lee Anderson's bait, boat and tackle headquarters in Oakland reports of Saturday's fishing for salmon were better than fair — almost good. The Sea Horse netted 21 salmon to 18 pounds, the Wilma H. boated 21 to 16 pounds, the Hazel B took 10 salmon to 20 pounds and the Ge-Ge brought in an even dozen salmon to 12 pounds. Fastest action was had between Duxbury reef and the Towers.

Also reported was the stint of the famous Duke 2. The skipper with two passengers boated 5 stripers from 1)4 to 22 pounds — on bullhead baits off China Camp.

Grace Quan of China Camp reported some top-flight fishing for stripers and some nice strings of fine fat flounders taken by those who fished for them. Best action seems to have been on shrimp for bass, and some fast action has been had. Frank August and son had limits by 8 a.m. The average was about 3 to 4 to the boat, and that is hard to beat.

Grace also reported some good to excellent flounder fishing. Most of the action was had on the Flats off Corregidor. I was told that the majority of bass were taken on bullheads this time instead of shrimp as on the previous weekend.

Caruso's place Sausalito reported salmon trolling was very good on Saturday, and I haven't the score for Sunday.

Several querries have come in featuring the McAvoy area, Honker Bay and that general area. The word is okay for catfish almost over the entire area. "Lots of catfish and good-sturgeon fishing," reported Harold Woldes of the McAvoy Harbor. "Not so good with stripers, but some nice sturgeon have come in to a top weight of 88 pounds."

In my book, there is no doubt that striperstriving will pay off in the near future in the Suisun Bay-McAvoy sector. A good run is due. Hope you are on the job when it happens.

Huge Load Of Salmon Set For Spring Stock

A quarter of a million yearling silver salmon will be stocked this spring in four central coastal counties, some going in Nicasio Creek in Marin County, the Department of Fish and Game said today.

The plantings are part of a continuing program to reestablish silver salmon runs in coastal streams which have suffered extensive loss of fish habitat.

Using funds provided by the Wildlife Conservation Board, crews are working to remove obstructions to fish runs and make these coastal streams suitable for silver salmon once more.

After a stream has been cleared, the silver salmon stocking program is begun. The fish are planted in the spring and migrate to the ocean in a few weeks where they remain, usually for two years, before returning to the stream to spawn and die.

Planting is continued in each stream for three consecutive years in order to establish self-perpetuating runs.

This spring's silver salmon stocking program was begun this week when planting trucks from Darrah Springs Hatchery in Tehama County brought 20,000 yearling silvers to Nicasio Creek, 10,000 to Gazos Creek in San Mateo County and 10,000 to Scott Creek in Santa Cruz County. An additional 20,000 silvers are scheduled for Nicasio Creek this year, according to the DFG.

Other waters to be stocked with silver salmon this year are the Noyo, Navarro and Gualala rivers in Mendocino County, and Soquel and Aptos Creek in Santa Cruz County.

Traveling Willie Lands In Japan

TOKYO (AP) — The Hanshin Tigers, Japan's Central League professional baseball club, said Sunday former U.S. major league outfielder Willie Kirkland has been entered on its roster for the 1968 baseball season.

Kirkland, 34, who arrived in Japan Saturday, started out with the New York Giants in 1957, then played for the San Francisco Giants, the Cleveland Indians, the Baltimore Orioles and the Washington Senators. He played for the Hawaii Islanders in 1967.

Namath Helps Defeat Bryant

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Alabama Football Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant were defeated in an exhibition golf match Sunday by New York Jet quarterback Joe Namath and Bob Dickson, British and American amateur champion.

Palmer was low man of the foursome with a 74 while Bryant toured the Montgomery Country Club's 18 holes in 92.

Thirty-eight degree weather failed to keep 5,000 persons from seeing Namath, who shot an 83, and Dickson defeat Palmer and Bryant 3-up. Dickson had a 75 over the par 70 course.

The exhibition was held to raise money for two state hospitals.

Glover Wins Lema Tourney

MARCO ISLAND, Fla. (AP) — Randy Glover shot a sizzling 66 yesterday to win the second annual $7,500 Tony Lema Memorial Golf Tournament and set a course record at the Marco Island Country Club.

The South Carolinian knocked in nine birds in the 18-hole benefit tournament to top Doug Sanders and Tony Jacklin, who tied for second at 67.

All three broke the course record of 68 set last year by Frank Beard in the same tournament. Proceeds from the gallery of some 6,000 will go to the Hanna Boys Center of Sonoma, and Boystown of Miami, Fla., tournament officials said.

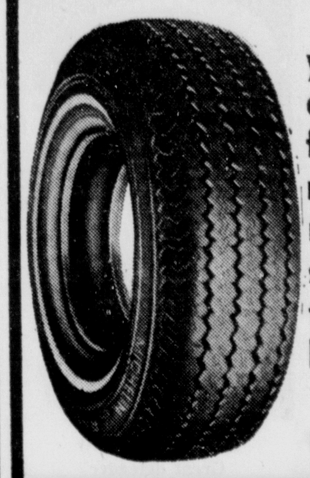
TIRE TREAD WEAR SALE



It has become so apparent in the last year or so that tire buyers are deeply concerned with mileage guarantees. Very few tires are guaranteed for a specific number of miles — for many reasons. The main reason is that no two persons put the same stresses on a tire and consequently, there is no common denominator. It would be like guaranteeing gas mileage on a car.

Then there are some tires that do carry mileage guarantees BUT there are so many gimmicks in the guarantees that actually you are being guaranteed nothing.

CAIN'S sells two tires that have the best tread wear and mileage guarantees there are on the market and NO GIMMICKS. Let me spell them out for you.

MICHELIN X

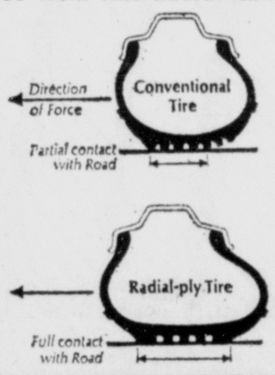
STEEL RADIAL TIRES

WHY DOES THE MICHELIN WEAR SO LONG? READ ON!!

HOW ABOUT THE "X"

Many advantages accrue from this Radial Construction. Because of the sidewall flexibility and the wide, rigid steel reinforced tread, the "X" tread always stays flat on the pavement. No scrubbing, squirming, highspeed distortion, or tread lifting. The tread stays on the ground where it belongs for better skid resistance, steering control, braking power and over-all handling, and it stays there at all speeds—even up to 115 MPH! But these important safety features are only a part of the story.

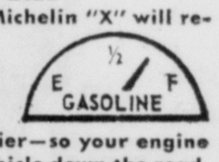


LONG LASTING WEAR

Michelin conservatively guarantees a minimum tread life of 40,000 miles—guaranteed in writing on any car, regardless of driving conditions. The steel belt stabilizes the tread on the pavement, greatly reducing tire wear, and along with lower running temperatures, results in greatly expanded tread life. Many Michelin tires run for 70,000 and 80,000 miles—and longer!

A LOWER GAS BILL

It's hard to believe, but the Michelin "X" will reduce your gasoline consumption by as much as 10%. The Radial construction reduces your car's rolling resistance, allowing the car to move easier—so your engine needs less gas to move the vehicle down the road.



EVEN SAFER ON THE BOTTLE

Yes, even when the "X" hits the bottle (or anything else in the road) you're a great deal safer. Chances are that steel shield will never be penetrated, and you can say goodbye to flats forever.

Peerless PREMIUM HP

for above-average mileage driving! Full 4-ply Nylon cord with a heavy braced tread for tire stability and long wear. Extra deep tread 15% deeper than original equipment tires. Great steering and road holding control — wet or dry — due to an unbelievable tread design. This tire has everything but a HIGH PRICE!

Cool Tam Quintet Seeks Champs Tournament Glory

By GARY TISCHLER

The 1968 Marin County Athletic League Tournament of Champions representative is a team that redeemed itself.

Take away Steve Woodward and Steve Johnson, and the difference between this year's Tamalpais High School basketball team and last year's is hardly apparent.

The difference is not so much in personnel as in a way of doing things.

PAT SCHAFER
Key player

PANICKY TURNABOUT

Last year, the Indians collapsed and crumpled, losing four of six games in the second half in a panicky turnabout runaway in the opposite direction.

This year, the Indians lost an overtime contest to streaking Marin Catholic, then calmly hitched up their pants and tore through the rest of the schedule, finishing with an 11-1 no-sweat record for the MCAL title and a trip to the TOC Thursday at Oakland Coliseum Arena, 6 p.m.

"It was different this year," Schneider said. "Last year, we'd get behind and panic. There was no coming back. This year, they don't panic when they get behind."

STRONG RALLIES

The Indians fell behind by 12 points early in the game on two occasions, against Drake and San Rafael, but came back to win both games going away.

In the Tournament of Champions, where the Indians will have plenty of opportunity to panic when they open against defending state champion Bishop O'Dowd, it may be the difference between a winner and a loser.

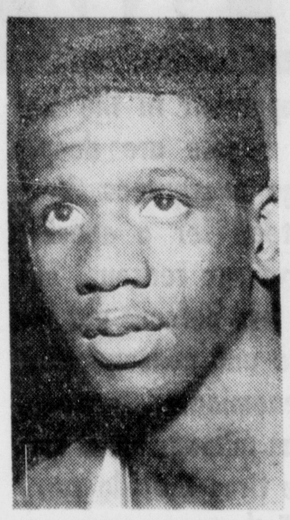
The players may be basically the same boys of 1966-67, but there has been a change.

KEY PLAYER

Schafer, the 6-foot-3 center, is the key to the Tam game.

Last year, plagued by injuries and inconsistency, he was erratic, playing brilliantly one week, and lack-luster the next. This year, plagued by injuries (an ear infection), he has almost always been good, sometimes great, and fair only once or twice.

His timing is a big factor on defense, where he blocks shots like a whirlybird under the bucket. Despite his small-for-a-center size, he can be intimidating.



FLOYD JACKSON
Jump specialist

The offensive attack keys on him with lob-passes over the middle. He draws fouls like a magnet and is difficult to stop when going up for a shot. His free-throw shooting was to a 66 per cent accuracy tune, hitting on 66 of 99 shots in league play. He has a fine hook shot, a shot he rarely uses, but a shot which he may have to use in the TOC. He can hit from 10 to 15 feet out if he has to.

LIKES CHALLENGE

Perhaps the most notable thing about Schafer is his response to a challenge. He seems to play better when the competition is tougher.

Last year, he played Drake's 6-6 center Jerry Sprout, who later was an all-TOC choice, even in two games, scoring 25 and 24 points against him.

He may get a chance to face his literally biggest challenge should the Indians get by O'Dowd. If that happens, he will most likely run into Wilson High's 6-9 Ansley Truit, the biggest thing on the Northern California prep basketball scene.

Floyd Jackson, the herky-jerky 6-1 forward is the other major part of Tam's offense.

When Floyd is on, he is almost impossible to stop. He has the ability to hang in the air on his jumper, which he hits from anywhere outside. He drives well, is a fine rebounder, good defender and excellent passer, all of which has developed with a confidence that he didn't have as a junior.

TOP DEFENDER

LEROY BARROW

and possibly the league's outstanding defender, one-on-one. His scoring has tapered off considerably, but he is the team leader, a big player in the clutch and one of the finest all-round athletes in the league.

From there, the Indian's weakness begins to show up. They lack depth.

Ron Blasingame is a sometime scorer who hits best from the corners and plays defense well, as do all the Indians. Don Mackin can score in little spurts when needed, but he too is essentially a defensive player. Ron Small, the sixth man, is primarily a fine ballhandler and not much of a scorer.

NO BENCH

There is no bench to speak of. Bill Secor, a fill-in for Schafer at times, is the only player with any extensive experience.

The bench may be the key weakness as the Indians, who last went to the TOC in 1963 and came up with a consolation title, try for something that no MCAL team has ever accomplished — a TOC title.

The odds are pretty dismal.

But the challenge is a big one, and challenges can be like gasoline for a fire.

The Indians have nothing to lose, except two ball games, and they have everything to gain.

They most likely will not panic out of sheer awe.

Marin Weightlifters Set North Cal, State Records

Members of Marin County's MarVel Athletic Club set five Northern California Junior Olympic records and California State Junior Olympic weightlifting records at an AAU national preliminary weightlifting meet in San Rafael last Saturday.

The results of the meet will be compiled along with similar meets across the country, with the top five boys in each age group to be given national honors.

Ed Maniscalco of Santa Venetia set a press record of 220 and a totals record of 655 in the 16-17 age group, also tying the snatch record with a 190 total.

Steve Cass of Terra Linda set records in the press, snatch and total with respective scores of 145, 130 and 450 in the age 16-17, 123-pound division.

Maniscalco won the best lifter trophy in the 16-17 age group division.

Marin Tar Swimmers Bow To San Berdoo

College of Marin swim team lost a dual meet to San Bernardino Valley Junior College in Kentfield last Friday, 66-46.

Dennis Good took two events for the Tars, winning the 200-yard individual medley and the 200 back stroke, while Phil Minter won both diving events. John Skaer won the 200-breaststroke and the Tars also captured the 400-medley relay event.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Hold A Good Stock But Diversify Now

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We are in our mid-40s and have just started investing in the market. For growth we bought American Telephone, Northeast Utilities. In addition we have Occidental Petroleum and Oil Shale. After the split in Occidental, we would like to buy more of this stock. What do you think of its growth potential and of our other holdings? — J.W.

A. For newcomers to the market I think you have done well, and I congratulate you. Telephone is probably undervalued; it is good but growth is moderate. Northeast Utilities, I think, merits the same rating. I would hold both, and with patience I believe they will do well for you.

Occidental, in my opinion, has a good future, especially through its large holdings in Libya. I look for more growth here than in any other of your holdings. Oil Shale is developing a business from extracting oil from our vast shale deposits. Because of the great interest in this new process, the stock has had a big runup this year and must be considered speculative. I consider it an attractive risk issue even at present rather elevated levels, and I would hold. Occidental is volatile, and I suggest you diversify by adding Plough, Inc., a consistent money-maker.

Q. (1) What kind of stock is Glen Alden? (2) How are yields figured, on par value or what? — F.M.

A. Glen Alden is a holding company with interests mainly in textiles and motion picture theaters. Further diversification is planned, and the company is well on the way to becoming a conglomerate.

There is good management here and some risk. You figure current yield by dividing the indicated annual dividend by the price. Par value doesn't enter into it at all.

Stocks Take Sharp Dip At Close

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed sharply lower today after an early attempt at a rally came to nighing. Trading was fairly active.

The averages were up slightly at mid-session and gains had crept about even with losses but the rise failed to win a following. Day traders unloaded siwftly and the price structure deteriorated rapidly.

A number of the glamor stocks in the computer, conglomerate and other fields made sharp recoveries in early trading but most of these were canceled out.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains and losses—which were almost even when the market was at its best—showed a 2 to 1 ratio for the downside in late dealings.

The Dow Jones industrial average wiped out a small gain and posted a loss of about 2 points.

Advances by some of the recovering glamor stocks in the computer, conglomerate and other growth fields were cut back sharply and in some cases erased.

Gains of a point were still shown in late dealings by IBM, Ligget & Myers, Texaco, Polaroid and General Electric.

Gold mining issued remained lower but cut their losses in some cases. Dome Mines and Homestake were off about 3 each and American South African 2.

BUBBLES AND BEADS

A technician at Martin Co.'s Research Institute for Advanced Studies at Baltimore, Md., looks at a cluster of transparent plastic balls and solid marbles representing the orderly arrangement of atoms in a carbide crystal. Scientists detected a pattern of missing carbon atoms (marbles) in vanadium carbide and built the model 18 inches in diameter to help explain how this affects strength and other properties of the hard, strong and heat resistant material. Professor Raps Tax On Tourism

STANFORD (BW) — President Johnson's proposed tourist tax will be well-nigh impossible to enforce, a visiting Harvard economist told the Stanford Business School Association.

"And if it is passed," siad Prof. Dan Throop Smith, "it's bad for the taxpayer's morale. It's like the customs. This type of tax distracts from other important economic problems like wage policy and the budget deficit."

Professor Smith was deputy Secretary of the Treasury under President Eisenhower and an economic adviser to Sen. Barry Goldwater during the 1964 campaign.

He agreed with other economists who have said "we should have a tax increase now," but assailed the 10 per cent surcharge as "harder on the higher income tax brackets than anyone else." After all, we're a self-assessing society," he pointed out.

He suggested that the government devise an across-the-board percentage point system rather than an inequitable flat surcharge.

Marin Gains In Businesses Below Normal

According to figures obtained by a physical count of the Dun and Bradstreet Reference Book listing of last September, there were 2,303 business firms, compared to 2,284 in 1966 — a gain of less than 1 per cent. This was the lowest increase in the northern area, which averaged an increase of 4.3 per cent for the same period. However, there were losses shown in Humboldt, Lassen, Madera, San Francisco and Sierra counties.

Biggest percentage gains in Marin were in the Belvedere-Tiburon area, moving up from 64 to 78 business firms — an increase of 21.9 per cent. San Rafael, with the greatest number of listings (905), dropped behind 8.9 per cent from the previous year's total of 993.

Point Reyes Station listings (21) increased 16.7 per cent; Novato (279) 11.6 per cent; Corte Madera (88) 11.4 per cent; Mill Valley (299) 10.3 per cent; Sausalito (207) 9.5 per cent; Larkspur (64) 6.7 per cent; San Anselmo (179) 5.8 per cent; and Fairfax (72) 4.3 per cent.

Kentfield showed no change during the year's period — 39 business listings in both 1966 and 1967.

Building Permits Over $1 Million

Eleven building permits totaling $1,344,450 and including one for a $900,000 Ross Valley medical clinic at 1380 South Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, were issued last month by the Larkspur Building and Planning Department.

Permits totaling $105,900 were issued for the previous January, and $68,200 for February 1967.

Landscaped Pond At Northgate To Be Turned Into Flower Shop

Something new in flower shops will be introduced at Northgate this month—occupying the island in the middle of the landscaped pond in the Northgate Fashion Mall.

This spot, which has been used in the past for fashion shows and other events, will be the site of an octagonal kiosk with a plastic roof, open on two sides and closed the rest of the way around.

It will be operated by Tho'tful Stop Flowers, a flower store chain headquartered in Santa Clara. The design will be unlike any of its other stores.

It should be ready for an opening in another week or 10 days.

SAN ANSELMO'S Home Bakery at 425 San Anselmo Avenue has closed its doors after 22 years' operation. Owners Peter and Faye Hansen are moving to Oregon where they own property about 40 miles north of Grants Pass. They intend to open another small bakery there.

Home Bakery was founded by Hansen's father, now retired. The younger Hansen went to work in the store shortly after it was first opened. No new business has yet been established at this location.

A NEW SERVICE STATION at 975 Diablo Avenue, Novato, across from the Novato-Fair Shopping Center, is Bob's Mobil Service. Dealer Robert J. Smith, who lives in Novato, finds it a shorter trip to work than to his former Smith 66 Service at 100 Tiburon Boulevard in Southern Marin.

The latter station is now known as Tiburon Phillips 66 and has been taken over by Warren J. Callaway of El Sobrante in the East Bay. He will move his home to Marin.

SCHWAHN'S AUTO BODY REPAIR in Novato has been sold and the new name is Novato Auto Safety Services, Inc., headed by Elwyn M. Baker of Novato.

Burke

DR. RICHARD R. HUGHES of Kentfield, head of the chemical engineering department at the Shell Development Co. research center in Emeryville, has been appointed staff engineer at Shell's Norco, La., refinery. He has been with the company since 1949 and has held supervisory positions in engineering, research and applied mathematics departments.

INSURANCE. Joseph P. Burke of San Anselmo is celebrating his 10th year as an agent for Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co. Associated with the Dean Brubaker agency in San Francisco, he has received several awards during this time for his sales performances. . . . Ronald E. Tatum of Terra Linda took off on a flying start in his first month of full-time employment with William M. Taylor and Associates, San Anselmo office dealing in insurance and mutual funds. He submitted $300,000 in life insurance in February. Until recently he was a family counselor.

GARY MOREY of Morey's Junior Boot Shop, San Rafael store specializing in orthopedic shoes, has received an award of merit for proficiency in children's prescription shoe fitting from the Edwards Shoe Co., Philadelphia.

THE LANDSCAPING of George Murata of Corte Madera is featured in Sunset Magazine's recent publication on Japanese gardens. Marin photographer Ken Molino of San Rafael and Ernest Braun of San Anselmo also have their work represented in the publication. Molino was responsible for the color cover photo and was cited by Sunset as the "discerning photographer" who illustrated Murata's landscaped gardens.

WORK NOW IN PROGRESS at Town House Hair Stylists, 844 Third Street, San Rafael, should be completed by the latter part of the month. The establishment is being completely remodeled in a Greek motif.

HODGE DAVIDSON of Ross, vice president of the stock brokerage firm, Birr, Wilson and Co., San Francisco, notes that a new investment club is made up of prominent Marin County women, who call themselves "The Money Bags." They are now studying the fundamentals of investing, so I guess the only strings attached to membership are purse strings.

NEA Puts Final Irony On Teachers' Strikes

In San Francisco schools, there were half-day sessions for some pupils last Friday because 1,400 teachers, members of the AFL-CIO San Francisco Federation of Teachers, stayed off their jobs. And school buildings became littered and remained unheated because union janitors observed the teachers' picket lines.

In Pittsburgh, Pa., nearly half the schools were closed by a walkout of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers local there. Vandalism flared at several high schools, tied to the strike.

In Oklahoma, the Oklahoma Education Association, affiliated with the National Education Association, called a one-day "professional holiday" tomorrow for its 27,000 teacher-members throughout the state.

BUT IT REMAINED for Sam M. Lambert, executive secretary of the million-member National Education Association itself, to put the final irony on the story of "dedicated professionals" striking to the detriment of the children they are employed to teach.

Lambert called on the Florida State Board of Education to shut down all the public schools in the state to "protect the safety and welfare of Florida's school children."

NEA-member teachers in Florida went on strike two weeks ago. They didn't call it a strike. They "resigned" —although under contract.

To keep the Florida schools open, the legislature passed an emergency measure allowing county school boards to hire replacement teachers who did not have teaching certificates. Most of the schools stayed open.

This was what created the threat to "the safety and welfare of Florida's school children," as envisioned by the NEA's executive secretary.

Adopting a posture of deep concern, Lambert declared that "hastily gathered substitute teachers . . . will seriously impair the educational program of the children."

OF COURSE, the educational program would not be impaired if the regular teachers went back to work. But they wouldn't do that. They "resigned" because the Florida Legislature did not vote as much money for the schools as they thought it should.

The children, if we accept Lambert's view, would be better off roaming the streets and going without schooling than attending classes taught by (horror of horrors!) "uncertificated" teachers.

Lambert's telegram to the Florida State Board of Education completes a picture that provides a sad commentary on the state of the education "profession" in the United States.

IN SAN FRANCISCO and Pittsburgh, we have teachers belonging to a labor union, leaving their jobs, "hitting the bricks" and disrupting the schools because they cannot have their way in bargaining — although they do not constitute a majority of the teachers.

In Oklahoma, we have teachers belonging to a "professional association" —who do constitute a majority—staging a one-day walkout as a show of strength to try to intimidate the legislature.

And in Florida, we have the executive secretary of that "professional association" calling on the state to close its schools rather than let anyone who is not a member of the club conduct the classes.

God help the children!

MATURITY NEEDS MORE THAN TIME

The word "mature" is defined as: "Completely developed; as applied to persons, fully developed in character and powers as, a mature thinker."

It is derived from the Latin "maturus," meaning "produced at the right or favorable moment, ripe."

Dr. Edward Strecker, in his book "Their Mothers' Sons," gave an excellent working definition of maturity: "It is the ability to see a job through, to give more than is asked for or required in any given situation . . . dependability . . . independence of thought and action . . . the capacity to cooperate."

Except in unusual cases, physical maturity comes automatically. But intellectual, emotional and spiritual maturity demand painstaking effort as well as time.

God created us to become mature persons —fully developed in all our powers and responsible for our conduct in the world.

"Go on to maturity."

(Hebrews 6:1)

Let us all grow in wisdom, Lord, as well as in an effective desire to assist other people.

Petris 'Tax Relief' Proposal At Least Offers Half A Loaf

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Another phase of "Property tax relief" is now before the state legislature, this one by Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, who offers a plan giving single family homeowners an annual $500 tax exemption, and doubling the standard deduction in state income for renters.

Petris is apparently acting on the theory that a half a loaf is better than no loaf at all. He says the plan would benefit about 2.5 million home owners to the extent of $45 per year, and would be an over-all benefit of about $155 million.

PROPOSAL OF Gov. Ronald Reagan is to turn over $155 million to local governments, and leave the matter of tax relief to local boards of supervisors and city councils. Senator Petris takes issue with this proposal on the grounds that the property owners have no assurance whatever that these local boards would use the money for property tax relief.

He also contends that most of the relief would be to the holders of business property rather than the home owner and renter.

The state expects to have $155 million for tax relief at the end of the current fiscal year, and if the money is not used for that purpose, then the state sales tax is to revert to 4½ cents on the dollar, rather than the 5 cents the 1967 legislature voted. Some legislators already are talking about retention of the five cent sales tax through enactment of additional law, even if a tax relief program is not voted.

NEITHER the program of Senator Petris nor that of Governor Reagan indicates where less money would be spent by government in case the "tax relief" program were enacted.

Thus, on the over-all tally, "tax relief" means little more than paying the bill from one pocket, instead of the other.

Petris said his proposals, SCA 15 and SB 468, if adopted, would "offer the home owner and renter the only form of meaningful tax relief."

How Smog Alert System Works

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Concerning a letter by Michael Pechner which appeared in your paper Feb. 26, I thought you might be interested in the Bay Area Smog Alert system, which has been in effect since October 1966.

As you know, Marin County is part of the six-county Bay Area Air Polution Control District.

The Bay Area Smog Alert is activated when one or more of our 11 air monitoring stations reach, or are likely to reach, .40 parts oxidants per million parts of air for one hour or longer.

If this occurs, the district will notify news dissemination media through the wire services. . . .

While the oxidant level of the Bay Area Smog Alert is above the adverse level (.15ppm) as defined by the State Department of Public Health, it is lower than the .50ppm first alert level used in Los Angeles.

Since oxidant levels that would warrant the use of the Bay Area Smog Alert have not been reached since 1965, we have not had occasion to use the procedure. I know you join me in hoping we never will.

Tragedy Points Need For Control

Editor, Independent-Journal:

A week or so ago a 17-year-old boy was killed when the car in which he was riding slammed into a tree in San Rafael. The impact of the collision was so great that the car, said to have been traveling 70 miles an hour on a curvy, wet road, had to be pried apart before its occupants could be removed. The driver: a 15-year-old youth.

The State of California has a minimum driving age of 18 with a few exceptions: 16-18-year-olds having completed a driver education program; 15-and-a-half-year-olds having completed driver education at school may also drive. A driver's license is not just a means for the state to collect revenue; it is meant to allow only qualified and responsible persons to operate a vehicle on the state's roads and highways.

Of course I was horrified to read of this tragic accident. But I couldn't help wondering why that youngster was allowed behind the wheel on public streets. The news story did not make clear what the youths were doing driving around late at night. . . .

It is incumbent upon all parents to supervise closely the activities of their teen-agers. Driving without a license is illegal because it is dangerous. Parents who allow their teen-agers to drive illegally or ride with an underage driver are not only contributing to the breakdown of respect for the law, but are courting trouble, if not heartache.

I am neither a parent nor a teen-ager, so I feel neutral in this situation. But I am a driver. I shudder to think how many unqualified persons there are — both young and old — on the highways. Who knows — that 26-inch thick maple tree those boys hit could have been my car. Or yours, parents of Marin.

Ill Persons Cannot Call For Checks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wish to state to the public and to the board of supervisors this fact (regarding) the article Feb. 26 in criticism of the grand jury's final report:

As I have known, Miss (Betty) Pressley of social welfare is so correct in her reply to last year's grand jury report, as to having persons apply for their checks in person, which would be an almost impossible feat. When I go to the doctor or to the hospital for any reason, I must go by ambulance which costs the county money, and it would be an impossibility to collect my check in person. It would be as great an impossibility for many others in Marin County. I think the grand jury's suggestion as to the way we should apply for our checks is assinine. The board of supervisors should take everything into consideration before reaching a final decision and I hope it is in favor of Miss Presley.

State Law Perils Social Security

Editor, Independent-Journal:

There is no mystery where the money comes from to support county welfare funds for our needy. It is subscribed to by charitable, compassionate city and county taxpayers. This money through careful analytical projection is set up up as an ever-revolving fund to support the needy . . . It is truly the American way.

There are 32 states now being challenged by the American Civil Liberties Union . . . that have on their books the abuse of state recovery laws . . . This state recovery law is a hungry monster; it feeds on ill-gotten gain . . . This vicious law compels the recipient (of relief) to hand over to the state a windfall that absolutely belongs to them, such as disability compensation, a return on life insurance, or the 13 per cent gain on their small social security check. This is a lien to square their so-called past indebtedness to the county relief . . .

The state recovery law like a jackal attacks the needy elderly on the downhill trail of life. At its last bend, the state is really there, to extranct its pound of flesh.

Every citizen should press our state representatives for legislation to abolish the evil in this law. We must protect the future of our Social Security, which solely belongs to us.

Petty Performance By Highway Patrol

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Why do some people lack respect for the police? I would like to suggest that acts of pettiness by our law enforcement officers contribute to this disrespect.

The case which brough this to mind is the CHP's action last Sunday night on panaromic Highway. The house below mine caught fire creating great danger to neighboring houses. The county fire department arrived promptly. The county sheriff arrived to control any traffic problems. There were many good people who stopped and grabbed hoses and wet towels and put out landing embers. Then came the CHP, who very efficiently gave parking tickets to the passers-by who had stopped to help.

I observed that the cars were being cited for parking facing the wrong direction; the cars were not obstructing anything. In this emergancy it seemed unnecessary and in bad judgement to harass the welcome help.

Again I am grateful to the many passer-by for the help and am sorry for those rewarded with tickets.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A MEMBER OF THE STAFF of one of Beverly Hills' newer luxury hotels was showing visitors the beautiful new swimming pool. "But how," asked one lady, "do you keep out the riff-raff?" "Madam," was the proud reply, "in Beverly Hills the raff have their own swimming pools!"

"How quickly times change," said a housefly as she was escorting her daughter across the head of a very bald man. "When I was your age, my dear, this was just a footpath."

Moscow Stalling On Cultural Exchange

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Russia is playing hard to get in negotiating a new cultural exchange agreement.

Whether this stalling is for bargaining purposes or the real aim is to junk this 10-year-old program is still unclear. The last (fifth) two-year pact expired Dec. 31. But while the U.S. has expressed desire to continue cultural exchanges and offered a draft accord, Moscow has maintained tight-lipped silence.

The Soviet embassy here, which is handling the matter, says it has no instructions and doesn't know if any will be forthcoming. There are indications an effort is being made to convey the impression that Moscow may do nothing and quietly let the program sink into limbo.

RUSSIAN STALLING on this is not new. Only one of the five agreements was negotiated by the Dec. 31 deadline. The last wasn't signed until March 19, 1966, nearly three months late.

Embassy officials gloomily attribute the current delay to U.S. involvement in Vietnam. From the obviously propaganda-inspired tenor of their comments, it would appear that if no new agreement is reached, they are set to put the blame on the Vietnam war.

U.S. authorities are not convinced the outlook is as discouraging as would appear. It is their view the Russians would like to make another agreement because they have been highly profitable. Such glittering attractions as the Bolshoi Ballet, Moscow Circus and other famous troupes have earned millions of dollars. In contrast, what rubles the U.S. gains from its cultural tours, exhibits and publications are not usable outside of Russia.

While the Kremlin rulers unquestionably would like to continue the lucrative flow of dollars, at the same time they want to get rid of stellar U.S. drawing cards that are immensely popular with the Russian masses.

THAT'S WHERE the rub comes in. The Soviet masters want our dollars, but not our displays that show them up. Foremost among them are America Illustrated, and exhibits of appliances, hand tools and other devices. All are smash hits, to the undisguised annoyance of the Communist moguls.

America Illustrated is a continuing thorn. A monthly magazine priced at the equivalent of 90 cents, it is invariably sold out the same day it appears at the kiosks. Copies have been bootlegged for as much as $12, and it's even rented out in lending library fashion.

In contrast, Soviet Life, which is distributed in the U.S., goes begging although selling at the bargain price of less than $2 a year. Of the 60,000 a month Russia can publish under the exchange agreement, less than half are disposed of.

Chief reason for Soviet Life's lack of popularity is its obvious, heavy-handed propaganda. Technically, it's a well-turned-out magazine, with numerous color illustrations of landscapes, cities, mines, plants, housing projects and stalwart young men and women. America Illustrated avoids such patent propaganda generalities and pictures U.S. products, supermarkets, autos and other features of everyday life that are lacking in Russia.

EQUALLY distressing to Kremlin authorities are exhibits of U.S. home and other appliances and hand tools. A display of the last drew huge crowds wherever shown. Viewers not only were outspoken in their admiration, but in wondering why similar devices weren't being produced in Russia. From hints dropped by Soviet embassy officials in Washington, the Kremlin wants no more such disturbing exhibits.

How far the U.S. will go in making concessions to get another cultural exchange agreement is unknown.

Russ Authority Challenged As Satellites Revolt

By PHIL NEWSOM

Since the mid-19th century, under czar and commissar, the Russians have sought to suppress or dilute the nationalism of 120 million people living in what are called Soviet satellites in eastern Europe.

The term is no longer wholly applicable.

ROMANIA, once described by Czar Nicholas II of Russia as "neither a state nor a nation, but a profession," has begun to provide evidence of her determination to become a nation of professional rather than peasant suppliers of raw materials.

At the consultative conference of Communist parties in Budapest she also provided dramatic evidence that she is an independent nation.

The Romanian delegation stalked out of the meeting, charging that it had violated guarantees that it would be entirely consultative in character and that no national party's policies would be attacked.

The Romanians accused the Soviet Union of attempting to steam-roller the conference into agreeing to a world conference of Communist parties in Moscow toward the end of the year.

The Romanians already had blasted any hopes the Russians might have had of winning formal condemnation of red China and have been joined by Czechoslovakia in protesting exclusion of Yugoslavia from the meeting.

THE HUNGARIAN spokesman appeared to deliver the crowning blow to Moscow's attempt to reestablish itself as the ideological capital of world Communism.

International Communist unity is crumbling and cannot be restored, the Hungarian said.

THE END of World War II gave the Russians the chance under the dictatorship of Josef Stalin to press for the Russification of eastern Europe from Poland on the Baltic to Albania on the Adriatic.

The beginning of its dissolution may be traced to Stalin's expulsion of Yugoslavia from the Comin-form in 1948 and subsequent proof that Yugoslavia could live without Russian help.

Or it may be traced to Nikita Khrushchev's denunciation of Stalin in 1956 and the beginning of peaceful co-existence which had unexpected offshoots in the rise of nationalism within the Communist bloc.

FIRST TO DECLARE his independence was Polish party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka. In a direct confrontation, Krushchev accused him of wanting to sell out the country to the "Americans and the Zionists."

A directive from Moscow declared the Communist party of the U.S.S.R. "considers that it remains the directing party among all the Communist nations of the world."

But it was too late. In November of that year, the Soviets and Poland signed an agreement of equality and noninterference in each other's affairs.

It may be indeed that the 1960's will be a decade noted for the dissolution of the Soviet Empire.

Changing Scene In Novato; I-J Building Part Of Change

The North Marin office of the Independent-Journal was moved from 866 Grant Avenue to 1535 Grant Avenue a week ago.

The first few people into the new office that Monday morning helped initiate it in the proper manner.

First to visit the office was Supervisor William Gnoss, who keeps his hand on the pulse of all changes in North Marin. He arrived before the one employee with a key to the front door. Others were in the office, but the front door was still locked. So Bill had to go around to the back door to get in to greet the employees in the new office.

Mrs. Marett Boissevain was the next person to call. She came to play for a classified advertisement.

Robert Vaughn, principal of Marion School, was the next customer. He was followed by Mrs. Carolyn Crabtree, and she really initiated the new office. She had a sack — a "care package for the Independent-Journal."

IT CONTAINED one pound of coffe, 100 tea bags, plastic cups, a package of cigarettes, two rolls of toilet paper, and a slice of bread.

She handed the bread to my wife, Dorothy, and then took out a salt shaker and sprinkled salt on the bread. She said that was an old German custom to dedicate a new house or building.

The new building is a great improvement over the old office. It is bright, with light walls and so much room for sunlight to get in. In addition to a skylight in the center of the building, the front is floor-to-ceiling windows.

My desk faces north where across the street the fruit trees are in bloom. In the background the oak-studded summit of Mt. Burdell makes a beautiful backdrop, when it isn't hidden in the early morning mists.

There is another major difference — in where my desk is located. Now I have a full view of the street instead of being hidden in back of the office. As yet, I have not become accustomed to the distraction of having people walk by and wave, or drive by, honk and wave from their cars.

WHEN I FIRST knew Novato, this end of town was largely open space between stores and Lee Brothers Market. Now with the two new McGillicuddy buildings, the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. building on one side of us and the Wells-Fargo Bank building being constructed on the other side, this is the fastest growing part of the business district.

Anyway, we are proud of our new building and visitors are always welcome.

Knights Never Had It So Good – They Weren't So Fat, Either

The stories of gallant knights and fair ladies of the Middle Ages have been a source of perennial fascination. The romantic picture so glamorously depicted by poets, novelists and the movie industry . . . wasn't.

The 12th Century European nobleman spent much of his time fighting or jousting with his peers and harassing his neighbors. His agression could well have been a result of his abysmal living conditions.

His stone castle was depressingly dank, drafty and dreary. He ate his meat with his hands and flipped the bones to his flea-bitten hounds. He wiped his greasy fingers in his sleeve of coarse wool or on his matted, rank hair. Bathing occurred when he happened to fall into a stream.

GLASS, STEEL, mattresses, sugar and most seasonings and spices were foreign to him. He walked in muddy, unpaved streets, slept on a hard couch, and his food was as palatable as a wet door mat.

And when he was stricken with a toothache, he suffered the tortures of hell. When his appendix burst, he died.

Who among us would wish to trade places with a 12th century noblemen?

TODAY OUR COUNTRY'S gross national product exceeds 700 billion dollars. We consumed over 32 billion pounds of meat and produced over 10 million vehicles and over 131 million tons of steel last year.

One hundred and ten million barrels of beer gurgled down the national gullet and we guzzled 327 million gallons of whiskey, brandy, Scotch and other spirits with boozy delight.

Clearly, we have a bulging cornucopia of delectables, a plethora of the "good things" of life. We take for granted conveniences and comforts a 12th century nobleman could not imagine, and the luxury enjoyed by a 15th Century prince is commonplace to many of us today.

Our system has succeeded in providing more people with more services and goods than ever before . . . anywhere.

BUT THERE HAS BEEN a price to pay.

And the price is FAT.

It isn't the physical fatness which is of concern here; it is the fatness of intellect and the fatness of spirit.

It is a fatness which has led us to fear.

We are fearful of endangering our comfortable backsides, our somnolent fat heads, and our soft, fat hides.

We're so heavy with this fat we've lost our moral equilibrium . . . so puffy with this fat your eyes are closed to the values which first enriched our lives and made us the greatest and most powerful of all nations.

THE LEAN UNCLE SAM has put on a lot of fat.

There's a lot of fat between "our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor" and "better Red than dead."

There's a lot of fat between "give me liberty or give me death!" and "Hell no, we won't go!"

There's a lot of fat between "don't tread on me!" and "don't rock the boat!"

And there's a lot of fat between our stand against Britain in 1812 for shanghaiing American seamen . . . and the USS Pueblo and her 83 crewman, now in Commie hands.

U.S. Views Pueblo Note With Caution

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U. S. officials sought today to determine the authenticity of a purported appeal from the Pueblo crew asking President Johnson to help win their release by offering U.S. apologies for the intelligence ship's "crimes" against North Korea.

The letter, delivered to U. S. representative at the Panmunjom truce village and broadcast over North Korean radio, was viewed with caution by U. S. officials yesterday.

Initial reaction was to regard the letter as another forced propaganda plot by North Korea, but there were indications it could be a prelude to eventual release of the men.

It was also noted that unlike previous alleged "confessions" from some of the Pueblo's 82 surviving crewmen, the letter's phrasing in idomatic English contained no clumsy wording.

One aspect of the authentication process was reported to be comparisons of the signatures on the letter with sample signatures of crewmen.

The letter, presumably reflecting North Korea's conditions for release of the men, said:

"It is legitimate for the government of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea to insist that before our repatriation can be realized the necessary amenities be made by our government under whose orders we operated.

"Specifically, we believe that since the real facts of the Pueblo case have been fully revealed to the world, our repatriation can be realized only when our government frankly admits the fact that we intruded into the territorial waters of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea and committed hostile acts, and sincerely apologizes for these acts and gives assurance that they will not be repeated."

The 800-wrd "Dear Mr. President" letter listed what it described as "damning evidence" that the ship violated North Korean waters before it was seized Jan. 23.

Reed Trustees Will Act On Hilarita Land

Trustees of Reed School District in open session today, will consider action on the purchase of 1.85 acres of Hilarita Housing land.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. at Del Mar School.

Supt. H. Joseph Edgington is recommending the board approve purchase of the parcel for $64,738.75, a figure based on an appraisal by the Marin County Housing Authority, according to Edgington.

The board last week held a closed session to discuss appraisals received from the authority, although the Ralph M. Brown Act makes no provision for meeting behind closed doors for this purpose.

THE PENNEY STORY

Bring your confidence to Penney's

By ROBERTA NASH

"We strive constantly to see that a customer does better day in and day out by buying Penney merchandise," said one of our vice presidents. "And that doesn't just mean better prices, it all has to start with better merchandise."

Later, I asked a man in Penney's Testing Center how we are sure what's best. "Often we're not sure," he said, "so we have to find out. That's what all these people and machines are for."

I looked at the tests in progress and I felt very confident of Penney quality. You would have, too.

THE PENNEY STORY

Why make such a big deal out of quality?

By ROBERTA NASH

I asked a Penney store manager the question once and when he finally decided I was serious, he said, "If I could use only one word to describe the phenomenon of Penney's, I'd pick the word, quality.

"Mr. Penney has always been a fanatic on the subject," he continued. "They say the only thing that still makes Mr. Penney angry is when someone suggests we compromise Penney quality to make a lower price."
